

President Uses Strong Language To Attack GOP

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Johnson, identifying the Republican cause with "a doctrine that invites extremism," says voters this year will reject "the echoes of the past."

Using the strongest language he has yet applied to his political opponents, Johnson associated them with "reckless factions" which he described as contemptuous, callous, arrogant, belligerent and careless.

The President set a Harrisburg audience of 5,000 cheering and chanting Thursday night, accusing his opposition of demanding that voters "choose a doctrine that is alien to America — that would lead to a tragic convulsion in our foreign relations."

And, depicting 1964 as a time of decision, he said citizens will be voting on "the peace of the world."

Starts The Music

At another point, Johnson stopped the show and started the music — "Hello Lyndon" was the tune — by shouting this battle cry that produced a mirthful doubletake from his audience at a Democratic fundraising dinner:

"We are a nation of lovers and not a nation of haters."

Joining in the ensuing laughter, Johnson waited out a spon-aneous musical salute from the organist and the biggest burst of cheering from a crowd that interrupted him more than 40 times.

Never during the evening did Johnson mention his GOP rival, Sen. Barry Goldwater. But by talking about extremism — a hot topic at July's Republican National Convention — and by repeatedly saying that his opponents demanded a choice of the voters, Johnson sought to make his target evident.

"Echo Says No"

Goldwater has said many times that his candidacy offers the electorate a choice, not an echo.

Johnson, at the end of his speech, adopted the word "echo" for dramatic effect.

He contended that the voice of the majority long ago said "yes" to Social Security, the minimum wage, equal opportunity, medical care for the aged, the anti-poverty program and other Democratic-sponsored measures.

"But the echo still says 'no,'" he shouted as he ran through the litany.

Each time Johnson used his "echo" line, he slammed down his clenched fist like a cheerleader and the audience chanted the phrase with him in unison.

Viet Nam War End Possible, But Not Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top U.S. officials say they believe it may become possible to negotiate an end to the war in South Viet Nam, but only after Red China and North Viet Nam are convinced they are backing a losing aggression.

Whether the anti-Communist fighting will have to be expanded beyond the borders of South Viet Nam before that result is achieved is one of the questions left open following the consultations here this week of Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor with President Johnson and other U.S. policy makers.

Two Top Objectives

Taylor, who left Washington Thursday night to return to Saigon, said he is sure the South Vietnamese struggle "will end victoriously from our point of view."

But he declined to speculate on when it would end and he said this is not the time to talk about negotiations.

When asked if there had been any discussion in the conference this week about an armistice with the Reds, Taylor replied "absolutely not."

The sessions confirmed two immediate major objectives in South Vietnamese policy.

The most important of these purposes, according to reports coming out of the sessions at the White House and State Department, is the formation of a stable South Vietnamese government in Saigon as quickly as possible.

Taylor is understood to have reported to President Johnson and others here that U.S.-backed Premier Nguyen Khanh has come to be regarded even by his political foes in Saigon as an almost indispensable man at the moment.

Guerrillas Are Target

Taylor feels he is the one man who has broad support among major elements of the Vietnamese population, including politically powerful Buddhists, the Catholics and the military.

The other objective on which a start is expected in the immediate future is a clean-up of Communist guerrilla forces in the four provinces immediately around Saigon.

Officials said Taylor had received assurances from Premier Khanh that he intended to go forward with the operation without delay, even during the government reorganization.

In discussing the larger and long-range aspects of the South Vietnamese conflict, officials said, Taylor expressed the view that it would not be won by military means alone.

Easing Of Ban On Picketing Is Sought By NFO

JACKSON (AP) — The National Farmers Organization goes to court today to seek a further modification of an antipicketing injunction.

The NFO, restrained from picketing on property of the Napoleon Livestock Auction near here, said it would ask permission to solicit support from friends and neighbors under the injunction.

The farmers group has been trying to keep livestock from the markets in order to push up prices to farmers.

Circuit Judge John Dalton of Jackson County issued a temporary injunction earlier this week forbidding NFO picketing on livestock auction property but permitting it on the public streets.

Union Demands Will Be Taken To Ford Today

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union takes to Ford Motor Co. today an agreement-in-principle it won at Chrysler Corp., estimated to be worth 54 cents an hour over the next three years—but not a penny of which will appear in paychecks immediately.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther, who led the Chrysler drive, was to take the union's match-it demand to Ford.

When the Ford contract is buttoned up, Reuther said he would call on General Motors Corp., to equal or better it. After GM, the UAW may ask profit-sharing American Motors Corp., a host of supplier plants and the agricultural implement industry to match the pattern.

To gain widespread improvements in Chrysler fringe benefits, including a possible $400 monthly pension at age 60, the UAW gave up an estimated 9½ cents hourly which workers could have added to paychecks this month.

It agreed to divert to fringe improvements the so-called annual improvement factor and a two-cent hourly cost-of-living allowance which otherwise would have gone into paychecks.

The annual improvement factor guarantees workers a yearly wage increase of 2½ per cent, or six cents hourly, whichever is greater, and is effective each September.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics figures the average automotive industry wage at $3.01 hourly, so the percentage would prevail and a recent one point-plus gain would add about 7½ cents an hour.

There could be a pay increase yet this year, but only if three months hence the cost-of-living index had advanced. Contracts being carried forward during negotiations guarantee workers a penny increase hourly for every half-point gain in costs. Readings are taken quarterly.

While giving up any immediate wage gains, the UAW claimed and Chrysler conceded, their new agreement would increase take-home pay by one per cent (three cents hourly on the average) through insurance costs taken over by the company.

The union also won agreement that in the third year the annual improvement factor — which compensates workers for cost-saving technological advances—would be boosted from 2.5 to 2.8 per cent.

If any part of 54 cents hourly —of company-added and union-paid money—is left over after meeting costs of new and increased fringe benefits, it was agreed this would be added to the basic wage in the third year of the three-year pact at Chrysler.

Some sources speculated this might equal three cents hourly, but neither top union nor company negotiators would hazard an estimate publicly. They pointed out there currently is agreement only in principle, with details still to be figured and spelled out.

Checkup Begins In Vast Sweep Of Destruction

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Florida, staggered by the one-two punch of hurricanes Cleo and Dora, looked with apprehension today at hurricane Ethel, spinning slowly in from the Atlantic.

Although it was too early to tell where Ethel would go, her center was whipping along the same path taken by Dora.

Dora, meanwhile, sloshed through the Florida panhandle while a top-level inspection team planned to survey the vast sweep of destruction she inflicted on Jacksonville and St. Augustine, Fla., and Brunswick, Ga.

Dora Dies Down

The team was sent by President Johnson who declared all sections of Georgia and Florida battered by Dora a major disaster area.

Preliminary estimates put damage in the tens of millions of dollars.

Dora lost her strength during a rainy trek across northern Florida and was downgraded to a tropical storm with peak winds estimated at 60 miles per hour. Dora was expected to continue moving west, with perhaps a slight turn to the north, and gradually wear herself out.

Gales lashed the state capital of Tallahassee and other parts of thinly populated northern Florida for hours during the night, but little damage was reported other than minor flooding.

Highest winds recorded inland were less than 50 m.p.h.

Three Days Away

Ethel, a small storm with a 300-mile spread of gales and peak winds of 95 m.p.h., churned westward from a spot about 800 miles east of Palm Beach.

"It's a good three days away, even if it should maintain its present course," said chief forecaster Gordon Dunn. "We're not making any predictions at this point."

PRESIDENT ARRIVES

WASHINGTON (P) — President Johnson will fly to Florida and Georgia this afternoon to inspect hurricane disaster areas.

The White House made the announcement barely an hour before Johnson's scheduled departure for Jacksonville, Fla., and Brunswick, Ga.

Although power was still largely out, Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Brunswick pitched into a monumental repair and cleanup job.

More than 30,000 persons who spent two nights on the hard floors of churches, schools and armories in Georgia, Florida and South Carolina returned to their homes.

Some had no homes left. Fourteen houses north of St. Augustine were demolished. The huge tides and driving waves cut the land from under them and they washed away.

Flood Loss Heavy

However, considering Dora's massive reach, structural damage was relatively light.

The worst destruction was caused by flood waters. They ran waist deep in the streets of St. Augustine during high tide.

Florida's valuable citrus crop, which escaped with little damage, was menaced by the torrential rains. Standing water can rot the roots of young trees within a few days.

Tons of leaves, limbs, shingles, signs, awnings, antennas, tiles, glass, wires, poles and trees littered streets.

Majestic old oaks that lined the streets of St. Augustine for decades lay on their sides. Palms were scattered like toothpicks.

Damage to the roads in Duval County, which is metropolitan Jacksonville, was estimated at $5 million. Stretches of U.S. A-1A, the highway that parallels the Atlantic all the way down the coast, was under water. In places it was ripped away.

Goldwater Sees Menace In Court

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said today that the Supreme Court, by not using judicial restraint, threatens our present system of government.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the American Political Science Assn., the Republican presidential candidate said:

"I weigh my words carefully when I say that — of all three branches of government — today's Supreme Court is the least faithful to the constitutional tradition of a limited government, and to the principle of legitimacy in the exercise of power."

Twice Thursday Goldwater criticized the court's decision on reapportionment of state legislatures. Today he was again critical of that decision, as well of its verdict in the school prayer case.

He cited these to illustrate his contention the court is moving into areas he doesn't think it should be in.

"I do no doubt for one minute that law must keep up with the changing times," Goldwater said. "But the job of keeping the law up to date should be in the hands of the legislatures, the Congress, and the common law courts, not just in the hands of the nine appointed justices of the Supreme Court."

Goldwater said today's court operates differently from those in the past.

"Until recent years," he said, "the Supreme Court itself has exercised judicial restraint with respect to acts of Congress with which it disagreed but which were founded on legitimate exercise of legislative power."

"But not the Supreme Court of today."

Atlas Missiles, Worth Millions, Now Obsolete

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has retired two squadrons of Atlas intercontinental ballistic missiles — millions of dollars worth of deterrent striking power rendered obsolete after only four years on the firing line.

The liquid fuel Atlases are being replaced by the more up-to-date solid fuel Minuteman missiles.

A total of 15 of the huge silver Atlas missiles, called "the free world's first ICBM," have been removed from their launch bases at Warren Air Force Base, Cheyenne, Wyo., the Air Force told The Associated Press.

Another nine Atlas D missiles are soon to be inactivated at Offutt Air Force Base, Omaha, Neb.

After that — the Air Force said the dates are classified — the same fate will be dealt to 27 later model Atlas E missiles and 54 of the more powerful but equally obsolete Titan I missiles.

Farmers Of U.S. Lose Millions In Summer Drought

CHICAGO (AP) — The rains that never came have cost American farmers from New England to the Rockies millions of dollars in damaged crops this summer.

An Associated Press survey shows that they stand to lose millions more because drought conditions still prevail in many sections of the country.

Compounding the farmers' woes has been scorching temperatures that left fields parched.

Rural counties in some agricultural states have been declared federal disaster areas, with farmers obtaining emergency loans.

The dry spell has also forced some communities to ration or curtail the use of water by the general public.

New York — Drought has lasted five months in some eastern and central upstate counties, resulting in dried-up pastures, stunted grain crops and a scarcity of hay. Many communities have restrictions on use of water and dairymen are asking for a revision of the federal milk-price formula to cover increased feed costs.

Indiana — Serious forest fires threaten in the southern part of state unless substantial rain falls in the next 10 days. But little crop loss anticipated, although rivers and creeks in northwest Indiana are at lowest levels in a decade.

Kansas — Farmers in some central and western areas waiting for rain before planting wheat. September rains have alleviated situation elsewhere.

Wisconsin — More than 20 counties declared eligible for federal assistance although new rainfall has improved the situation.

Pennsylvania — Several counties in north central and northeast receiving disaster aid. Hay, corn and pastures hardest hit.

Texas — Moisture short over most of the state. Livestock conditions generally poor and herds dwindling. Hay, cotton, corn and peanut harvest fair to poor. City water supplies mostly adequate but some small towns have rationed water.

British Bolster Singapore Fleet

SINGAPORE (AP) — Britain dispatched four warships from the Mediterranean to Singapore today to bolster its Far East Fleet guarding Malaysia against Indonesia.

A Royal Navy spokesman said the two frigates and two destroyers should arrive within a week. He said they were ordered here "obviously due to the deteriorating situation in Southeast Asia."

The order to strengthen the sea force followed the airlift to Singapore Thursday of a 500-man antiaircraft regiment from British forces in Germany.

The British Defense Ministry also disclosed that four Vulcan bombers, three Canberra reconnaissance planes and two long-range sea patrol Shackletons had been moved to Aden as part of the buildup. Apparently they were being brought closer to Singapore for quicker transfer if needed.

Britain is pledged to defend the year-old Malaysian Federation of Malaya, Singapore, North Borneo and Sarawak which Indonesia has vowed to destroy.

Indonesia, which has landed troops and dropped paratroopers on the Malay Peninsula in recent weeks, claims the federation is a device to preserve British rule in Southeast Asia.

The United States urged the U.N. Security Council Thursday to call on Indonesia to stop armed attacks on Malaysia and establish conditions for negotiation of their differences.

Peabody Loses In Upset Vote

BOSTON (AP) — In a smashing upset, Lt. Gov. Francis X. Bellotti, father of 12, wrested the Democratic nomination for governor from the incumbent, Gov. Endicott Peabody, in Thursday's Massachusetts primary.

Bellotti's victory means that for the first time in Massachusetts history both major parties will be backing sons of Italian immigrants for the state's highest office.

Former Gov. John A. Volpe, who lost the office to Peabody two years ago by a 5,000 vote margin in a total poll of more than 2 million, was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

The latest count of the returns from 1,891 of 2,008 precincts gave Bellotti 348,165 and Peabody 319,802.

In entering the primary against Peabody, the nominee battled the major leaders of the state Democratic party, including Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who from his hospital bed issued a strong endorsement for Peabody.

Kennedy, his back broken in a plane crash last June, was unopposed for nomination for a full six year term in the Senate seat once held by his brother, the late President John F. Kennedy.

Bellotti, 41, rebounded from a crushing defeat at the Democratic State Convention last June. Peabody won the convention endorsement by a margin of better than 3 to 1.

Baker Inquiry Brings Wrangle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rules Committee had politically charged Bobby Baker case back in its lap today over Republican protests that "another whitewash" had been decreed by Democratic leaders.

The latest flareup of partisan wrangling over the Baker case was sparked by rival proposals for investigating an alleged $35,000 political payoff by Mathew McCloskey, Philadelphia contractor and former ambassador to Ireland.

The Democratic leadership won adoption of a resolution directing the Rules Committee to reopen the Baker probe and to give "particular emphasis" to the payoff charge leveled by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del.

Williams led an unsuccessful GOP drive to have the investigation handled either by the Senate Government Operations Committee or a recently authorized bipartisan committee on standards and ethics.

Holland Furnace Stock Taken Off Trading Lists

NEW YORK (AP) — Governors of the New York Stock Exchange Thursday voted to suspend trading of the common stock of Holland Furnace Co., Holland, Mich., because of low earnings and low stock prices.

The suspension is effective at the opening of trading Sept. 21. A petition to delist the firm will be filed, the exchange said.

The exchange said that the company had fallen below minimum requirements in the aggregate market value of its outstanding stock, the aggregate market value of its publicly held stock and its average earnings.

Tickets To Be Sold For Richard Burton's "Hamlet"

A total of 2000 tickets will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis at the Delft and Michigan Theatres for the four performances of Richard Burton's "Hamlet" to be presented by Warner Bros. on Sept. 23-24 in the revolutionary new electronic-optical process of Electronovision Theatrolfilm. The ticket sale will begin on Sept. 11th.

Seats will not be reserved, but the number of tickets to be sold for each performance will not exceed the capacity of the theatre, thereby guaranteeing a seat to each ticket holder. All tickets will be at popular prices, approximating those for first-run motion pictures.

More than 1,000 theatres in the United States and Canada will present Burton's "Hamlet" on the same two successive days. There will be two matinees and two evening performances of the play, which was presented on the stage of the Lunt-Fontanne Theatre in New York. There will be no "road" tour by the Broadway company; instead, the widely acclaimed Burton interpretation will be brought to audiences from coast to coast in Electronovision Theatrolfilm.

Starring with Burton in "Hamlet" are Hume Cronyn, Alfred Drake, Eileen Herlie, William Redfield, George Rose and George Voskovec.

Library Plans Festival Of Arts For 9 Months

Trustees of the Carnegie Public Library will inaugurate the first annual Festival Of Arts with an exhibit called "Understanding the Child Through Art" in the library.

Made available by the Delaware Art Center, the exhibit is prepared by the Committee on Art Education and the Museum of Modern Art. This exhibition presents the creative expressions of children from the point of view of child development.

The Festival of Arts is a series of lectures, film-programs, and exhibits scheduled over a nine month period. All parts of the Festival are free to the general public. Clement Greenberg, art critic of the New York Times, has said: "I think a poor life is lived by anyone who doesn't regularly take time to stand and gaze, or sit and listen, or touch, or smell, or brood, without any further end in mind, simply for the satisfaction gotten from that which is gazed at, listened to, touched, smelled or brooded upon."

"We hope that all citizens of the Escanaba area will take time to turn their attention away from their daily routines and refresh their spirit by looking, listening and brooding at the various activities planned during the Festival," said Library Director Harry Courtright. All art exhibits will be held at the library. The lecture and film program locations will be announced as scheduled. A catalog of all the activities of the 1964-1965 Festival Of Arts can be picked up at the public library.

The schedule of events:

Sept. 14-28: "Understanding The Child Through Art".

Oct. 1-31: Thailand, by the Asia Society. "An exhibition which gives a general view of the history, geography, religion, and culture and shows the contrasts between old and new in Siam. It consists of 10 panels of photographs and text."

Nov. 16-30: What Is Modern Painting, Delaware Art Center: "Informative text introduces 31 reproductions in color and nine photographs showing the important trends in art during the past 75 years: realism, impressionism, expressionism, cubism, surrealism, magic realism, and other phases of modern painting."

Dec. 27-Jan. 17: The Medieval World, "The roles of church, town and castle in the day-to-day life of medieval man are shown through photographs, reproductions of prints and engravings, and text in an exhibition originated and prepared by Life Magazine."

Jan. 1-31: Adult Film Series, to be announced.

Feb. 1-15: Intimate Paintings; University of Illinois Extension. "Thirty-four small oil and mixed media paintings by contemporary American and European artists lent by the Olsen Foundation. Most of the paintings have been created during the last three years."

March 1-31: Ten Still-Lives: National Gallery of Art. "Some figure compositions with still-life details are used to show how the theme of still life developed between the late Middle Ages and the present day."

April 1-30: Escanaba Art Show. Local artists will have an opportunity to display selected paintings. Approximately 20 pieces of local art work will be on display.

May 1-31: Lecture Series—to be announced.

June 1-30: Masterpieces Of Asian Art, Asia Society. "Ten panels of reproductions, photographs, and explanatory text which present a brief survey of the major classical artistic traditions of Asia. A catalogue of the show at Asia House, on which this exhibition is based, is available."

July 1-31: Five Techniques of Painting, National Gallery of Art. "Five panels, ready for hanging illustrate fresco, tempera, and three oil techniques."

Youth Center Opens Monday

Club 314, the city sponsored youth center, will open for the 1964-65 season on Monday, Sept. 14, at 6:30 p. m. The general public is invited to attend the opening and inspect the recreational facilities available to the teenagers of the area.

The building, located on the corner of 14th street and 3rd avenue, was given its summer grooming last month and most of the woodwork was painted by members of the Recreation Department staff. The furnace received badly needed repairs and should operate with normal efficiency during the coming months. Ping pong and billiard tables have been renovated and new records have been purchased for the dance room juke box.

The dance room will be supervised by Irene Piriot with Wallace Pultz and Erwood Slade conducting activities in the game room. Franny Luneburg will be in charge of basketball and weight-lifting upstairs. Darrel Bengry will continue to serve as substitute leader.

The club will be open from 6:30 to 9:30 on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday nights and from 1:30 to 4:30 on Saturday afternoons after the completion of the football season. The Golden Age Club and the Senior Citizens will use the dance room for their social activities on alternate Wednesdays in the evening.

The afternoon jubilee service will be at 3 o'clock with Prof. Martin Lutz of Wisconsin Lutheran High, Milwaukee, delivering the message. The high school has an enrollment of 900.

Prof. Lutz is the son of Pastor and Mrs. William Lutz. Pastor Lutz was for many years pastor of Salem congregation, and with Mrs. Lutz will be warmly welcomed on their visit here. The Ladies' Choir will sing "If Ye Love Me, Keep My Commandments," an anthem arranged by Beck.

Pastor Wendland will be the liturgist at both services.

The public is invited by Salem congregation to join in the thanksgiving services.

Schweigert To Laud Romney

State Senator Thomas I. Schweigert will praise the accomplishments of Governor Romney's state administration in the past two years in a keynote address to the Delta County Republican convention in the Sherman Hotel at 7:30 p. m. Saturday. The convention will name delegates to the state GOP convention in Detroit Sept. 19.

Schweigert is the GOP nominee for the state senate in the 37th district which includes Delta County. A consulting for-ester, he will come to Escanaba Saturday in time to visit the Logging Congress and see its parade.

He said his address would cover two points.

1. The meaninglessness of "label" like "Goldwater Republicans" or "Buttontoe Republicans" in the final analysis and should act accordingly."

2. He said his review of the Romney Republican administration in Michigan, in which he has been a key senator, will cite that it took over state government facing a $95 million deficit and now has a $60 million surplus after a generous replenishment of the Veterans Trust Fund, which was used for state operation.

"We have made economies of $1.5 million a year and our present reorganization of state department can save another $10 million a year while maintaining the fiscal integrity stressed by Governor Romney.

"The tax reform we proposed was voted down by the people but Michigan has never moved on taxes except in a crisis and it has an aversion to the state income tax and voted against it on nonpartisan basis."

"The tax reform we proposed was voted down by the people but Michigan has never moved on taxes except in a crisis and it has an aversion to the state income tax and voted against it on nonpartisan basis."

Loggers Enjoy 7th Heaven Of Gasoline Muscle

By JEAN WORTH

The Logging Congress exhibit of logging machinery at the U. P. State Fair grounds is the best show of the convention — lacking only Saturday afternoon parade — and it is also a revealing comment on what's happened to Upper Peninsula logging and to the machinery industry which has mechanized it.

There has probably never been a more impressive display of equipment at any of the 19 Lake States Logging Congresses than is assembled today at the Fair Grounds, but some of the equipment dealers are worried. Bob Brebner of Marquette said that 15 years of experience of Logging Congress attendance had built an expectancy of about 20,000 visitors to his firm's display of heavy equipment at the shows years ago. "This year we'll be lucky," he said, "if we get 3,000."

Asked the reason he said, "The logging industry as we knew it in the Upper Peninsula is dead." He explained that the logging camp and big timber harvest operation is gone and that the small jobber with modest equipment needs has taken over the harvest. Most Pettibone Michigan wood handling machines built in the Upper Peninsula's own Baraga, he suggested, are going to Georgia and other faraway places and not the Lake States.

Pettibone Grows

At the Pettibone display the most impressive array of machines on the grounds was to be seen, eight big pieces of equipment worth a total of $150,000. It is remarkable, said Edward (Bud) Gauthier, factory representative of Pettibone Michigan Corp., of Baraga, that when the Logging Congress was in Escanaba the last time 12 years ago it was only turning out 5 machines a month and now it's turning out 40 to 50 machines a month at its Baraga plant.

It has 8 machines on display here, more than a month's production 12 years ago. At Baraga it makes 2 sizes of skidders and 5 models of Caryl Lifts, with variations. Six of the 8 machines shown here were made in Baraga and the U. P. plant's products go all over the world. A month ago it shipped a 30,000-pound capacity Caryl-Lift to Russia.

The Lake States, as Brebner suggested, are a minor part of Pettibone Michigan's market. Gauthier estimated that there are 60 to 75 Pettibone machines in the Upper Peninsula. Prime usages are in pulp mill woodyards, lumberyards, etc.; they are not all used in woods operations.

Escanaba contributed made-in-Escanaba Harnischfeger Miti-Mite cranes to the Brebner line, and Gafner Automotive & Machine Inc., showed its Iron Mule wood loaders and Carriers.

The exhibit of Made-in-Canada machinery was impressive. It included snowmobiles for winter travel, but more especially husky big skidders with hinged backbones and power in all four big rubber tired wheels. Tree Farmer and Timberjack offer such vehicles and Pettibone has several skidders, plus a 6-speed traveler which carries the logs out of the forest. The Gafner Iron Mule performs the same functions in somewhat more modest proportions, and Gafner has also made some prototype skidders for Canadian manufacturers with foreign markets.

Brebner thinks there is a Lake States potential for a big skidder like the Timberjack if logging is adopted to the machine's usage. This would probably entail skidding out pulpwood in tree length instead of bolts.

The mechanization of Logging is about complete, the Logging Congress display of machinery indicates. The machinery is husky, efficient and expensive. An end loader that can run 30 mph on the highway and lift a staggering load of logs costs $32,000.

The variety and range of power saws continues to expand, the exhibits of hundreds of the machines by many makers at the Logging Congress reveals. Some are used to power little go-karts which haul people around the grounds; chainsaw motors are used to power portable pumps and earth augers and other machinery. Most of the saws are in the 5 to 7 hp class, but some have as little as three-quarters horsepower and can be used for sawing off bumblebee wings and trimming chickens' eyelashes.

The Congress attendance includes hundreds of skilled chain sawyers. That's obvious at all the displays. Men step up, give the starter cord on a demonstrator a pull, finger the accelerator so the saw zips around its beavertail like a dog chasing a cat. There are now gimmicks, of course, like chains that won't kick back.

The machinery ranges from a tree bed cultivator made in Sweden to a pint sized model of a Case 1928 steam traction engine that powers a miniature sawmill and debarkers from a portable size to handle posts and pulpwood to a whopper that can take a big tree — with the limbs off, Charlie!

Contests, Big Parade Climax Loggers' Meet

A series of contests and a parade that is expected to be the largest ever seen in Escanaba will highlight concluding days of the 19th annual Logging Congress being held in Escanaba.

The pulpwood loading contest scheduled for this morning was deferred to 2:30 this afternoon to permit a larger number of entries.

The pulpwood loading contest was held this morning at the U. P. State Fairgrounds, headquarters for the Lakes States Logging Congress, and was followed by the meeting of directors and members of the Timber Producers Association, sponsors of the conference. The meeting was held in the exhibition building at the Fairgrounds.

A series of contests were scheduled for this afternoon including a power sawing event, plus a tree felling contest which is new to the Congress.

Contests At Fairgrounds

The banquet tonight at the House of Ludington is scheduled for 7 o'clock, when awards of merit and safety awards will be presented and talks will be heard by officers of the Timber Producers Association.

Myron "Fred" Fox, president of the Timber Producers and an officer of the Abbott Fox Lumber Co., of Iron Mountain will report on the achievements of the Association for the past year, and will review plans for the year ahead. A report will also be presented by D. J. Massoglia, Association secretary.

Mayor George Rusch will welcome the Timber Producers from Northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan, and the toastmaster will be John J. Mitchell of the Sawyer-Stoll Timber Co.

Marvin Pearson, Escanaba, general chairman of the Logging Congress, said the opening of the conference indicated a successful meet, and that an impressive exhibition of logging equipment is being seen by thousands at the Fairgrounds.

Parade Saturday

The exhibits and demonstrations will continue open to the public Saturday, with finals in

Abbe Lane Plans To Marry Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Abbe Lane, divorced three months ago from band leader Xavier Cugat, says she's going to marry Hollywood theatrical agent Perry Leff as soon as he gets a divorce.

"We haven't set a definite date," said Miss Lane, 30. "We hope it will be in the near future."

Miss Lane, who's appearing at a New York night club, said she met Leff, 38, in July. He already was in the process of getting a divorce, she said.

Peninsula Potpourri

MUNISING — The Munising Lions club has set up a $2,000 loan fund to enable graduates of Munising high school to continue their education.

School Supt. William T. McNeil was named administrator of the fund, which will provide loans of up to $200 a year for students attending a Michigan college.

MARQUETTE — Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. has presented another $5,000 gift to the Northern Michigan University Foundation, third in a series pledged by the Upper Peninsula's largest iron mining operator.

The presentation to Dr. Edgar L. Harden, NMU president, was made by Ogden E. Johnson, Ishpeming industrial relations director for the company.

L'ANSE-A — A strike at the L'Anse plant of Celotex Corp. was averted when members of Local 4283, International Woodworkers of America, voted to accept company proposals for a two year contract.

The agreement provides for a 6 cents an hour pay hike the first year and a 7 cents increase the second, a 1 cent boost in the midnight-8 a. m. shift differential and what were described as "substantial" improvements in hospital surgery, and sickness and accident insurance benefits.

ONTONAGON — The conservation department is investigating damage to trees in parts of Porcupine Mountains State Park. Chemical poisoning by fumes from the smelter stack of the nearby White Pine Copper mine is suspected but not confirmed.

Paul R. Flink, conservation department entomologist, said leaves on the afflicted trees turned brown, showing symptoms typical of chemical poisoning rather than insect or fungus attack. He believes most of 200 acres of trees will recover.

ISHPEMING — Byron Grenfell, president of the Peninsula Pistons Auto Club, was a second-place winner in the National Custom Auto Fair held in Maurat Shrine Temple in Indianapolis, Ind., over the Labor Day weekend.

Grenfell's 1963 customized Oldsmobile drew acclaim from thousands at the show. The rebuilt auto, with engine components chromed, also sports a luxurious interior highlighted by white carpeting.

MENOMINEE — Menominee City Council approved by a 9-1 vote to permit the Menominee Board of Education to purchase gasoline on a trial basis from the city at cost and to reimburse the city nominal charges incurred.

It was pointed out that the school board is paying approximately 25 per cent more for gas per gallon than the city.

IRON MOUNTAIN — Iron Mountain city treasurer Henry Longtin, 59, submitted his resignation to the Iron Mountain city council.

Longtin informed the council that he had been advised by his doctor to cease work because of health reasons. His resignation becomes effective Oct. 1.

Longtin was elected city treasurer of Iron Mountain in 1951, and had served in that capacity since that time.

RHINELANDER — Jacob E. Trader, 72, Stevens Point, who was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes in a small portable cabin parked at a resort in western Oneida county, died in Sacred Heart Hospital at Tomahawk at 2 a. m. Sunday.

His brother, Frank W. Trader, 70, was found dead in the cabin, located at the Fish Trap Resort on Lake Nokomis, County Trunk N.

IRON MOUNTAIN — Dr. Lindo J. Bartelli, an Iron Mountain native, recently was awarded the degree of Fellow in the Soil Conservation Society of America.

This degree is the highest honor the society bestows and is awarded to professional members of the society.

Bartelli, who now resides in Knoxville, Tenn., has been serving as acting head of the 13-state regional staff of the Soil Conservation Service.

He recently was promoted to the top position of the soil survey staff for the Southern Region of the SCS, with headquarters in Fort Worth, Texas.

Conservation Gain

This fall may be remembered in the Upper Peninsula as one in which we made a great stride in conservation progress. The hunting of antlerless deer will be more widespread than ever before; only in Menominee County will there be an exemption from the permit hunting of antlerless deer.

The permission for this experimentation in control of the deer herd was possible because of the growing public understanding of wildlife management practices, we'd like to think. Whatever the reason, "there was less objection to our antlerless deer management program this year than any time since we started" nearly a decade ago, says Ralph A. MacMullan, director of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

If this system is a good one for the public there should be benefits in it for the hunters and MacMullan predicts that they'll be forthcoming. The Conservation Department wants hunters to kill more deer in the Upper Peninsula.

It wants the U.P. to share some of the greater plenty being enjoyed in the Lower Peninsula. The U.P. only shoots 9 per cent of its bucks each fall and down in Region 2, in the top of the Lower Peninsula, hunters kill 12 per cent of them.

The Upper Peninsula, says MacMullan, can take twice as many deer as it is taking now without damaging the herd. "I realize," says MacMullan "that we can't get 50 hunters per square mile in the Porcupines" but there would be many more deer shot in the Upper Peninsula if there were more hunters.

The antlerless deer hunt will help crop off the deer and preserve the range so it will support healthier deer and more multiple births. Then the herd numbers will bounce up strongly each spring.

The Upper Peninsula will be trying this new method more thoroughly than ever before this fall and winter. This is a great gain in Michigan's conservation program and it should provide more hunting. It should also help avert a loss of many deer to starvation because the U.P. herd is up again, judging by road kill figures and field counts, and a severe winter could destroy thousands of deer not cropped off by hunters.

Wisconsin, like Michigan, is moving ahead in deer management. It will hold its first real test of the "variable quota" deer hunting system this fall, a selective way of whittling down deer herds in areas where the animals get too numerous for their own good, a menace to themselves and to the forests on which they live.

Permits will allow groups of four or more Wisconsin hunters to bag one extra deer of either sex. The permits are good for only specific counties so that the kill will be controlled by areas.

The selective system got a poor trial in Wisconsin last year. State game specialists had recommended 15,000 permits and under pressure from legislators only 5,500 were issued. The 1963 deer surplus was not harvested and it's estimated that the state's herd is now the highest since 1950, a danger that concerns game managers as they face a winter of unknowable severity.

The Doctor Says:

Nerve Cut Major Operation

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt
Q — My uncle had a lumbar sympathectomy. What is this operation and what is it for?

A — This is a cutting of the sympathetic nerve roots as they emerge from the vertebral column in the lower back. It is frequently done on both sides. The operation may be performed on victims of chronic pancreatitis, diseases of the blood vessels in the legs and severe elevation of the blood pressure.

Several weeks before such an operation is undertaken the nerve roots are injected with a substance that temporarily paralyzes them. If this procedure results in improvement, the permanent severing of the nerves is justifiable. This major operation is not, however, done as often as it was in the past because medical means of treatment have greatly improved and sometimes the operation results in too great a lowering of the blood pressure.

Q — My brother, 64, has myelogenous leukemia. How serious is that type of the disease?

A — Since leukemia is a form of cancer of the blood, any type is a serious health hazard. Treatment has been improving, however.

Q — What is the difference between acute and chronic leukemia? Are they related to lymphosarcoma?

A — Acute leukemia is usually fatal in six or seven months but persons with chronic leukemia may live for several years, especially when they are treated with X-ray or other forms of irradiation and chlorambucil or other appropriate drugs. Hodgkins disease or lymphosarcoma is a distinct but very similar disease. The treatment is the same as for leukemia.

Q — What is a Ghon complex of the chest and how does it affect a person?

A — The first or primary lesion of tuberculosis in a child is sometimes referred to as a Ghon tubercle. This and the extension of the disease to the nearby lymph nodes is the primary or Ghon complex.

How tuberculosis affects a person depends on such factors as individual resistance which is highest in persons who are physically fit, the number of tubercle bacilli that gain entrance into the body, which

ABOUT SCHOOLS

On Tuesday, Sept. 1 the mature citizens of the Escanaba School Area told its young citizens exactly what they thought of them. The answer was a dismal one. It was a forecast of a future for the youth of this community that flatly failed to recognize their static role in the complex and uncertain years they must face because we failed to solve the problems of our times.

The citizens of this nation are leaving its youth a shallow and a dangerous inheritance in terms of problems both at home and abroad. The least that any community can do is to provide the sort of educational program that will prepare its boys and girls to resolve, if this is possible, the problems they must face. It is to the credit of many communities that the educational requirements needed for these times are being fulfilled with a completeness commensurate with the problems of our times. This is our nation's hope now and in the future.

The results of the election last Tuesday clearly indicate that the majority of the citizens of Escanaba School Area take a different view, and answer the youth of the community by saying "no" to the question of a full and increasingly enlightened instructional program.

To vote against the youth of this community is inconceivable — yet, it happened. The funds which could have been provided would have made possible a full program of instruction designed to meet at least minimum requirements. Now, as a matter of plain practicality, a hard-working, dedicated Board of Education finds itself in the unenviable position of having to curtail, in some way, a program of public education that even now, because of a limited budget, falls below the minimum standards expected of a city and surrounding area of this size.

It is certain now, unless measures can be taken promptly, to support the schools, that the scope of the instructional program will suffer. It is certain that members of a highly capable teaching staff will seek, and obtain, employment elsewhere.

The first resignation was received last Wednesday. Others will follow in the days ahead. As a result of these, and perhaps others, necessary actions on the part of the Board of Education, the schools will stand in jeopardy both with respect to college entrance and accreditation. Whatever decisions have to be made, the loss to the boys and girls of the Escanaba School Area promises to be a substantial one, however undesired it may be.

Orville E. Peterson, Asst. Superintendent, Escanaba Area Schools

NOTE EXPLAINED

The Press correctly reported that I voted "no" to the endorsement and publication of the statement by Dr. Vernon Johnson. Briefly, I should like to explain my position.

To the extent that his statement concerned school problems, we are in agreement. Had the statement limited itself to these problems I would gladly have voted "yes."

The statement, however, also included strong personal attacks against individuals in this community who publicly opposed the recent 4 mill proposal. Much as I disagree with their position, I neither privately, nor publicly, question their honesty, nor their integrity. I extend to them the same respect with which I hope my views are met.

I did not even know of the existence of this statement till it was handed to me just prior to the meeting. There was barely time to read it. There was no time for intelligent analysis. There was no discussion. There was no opportunity to suggest changes. Even assuming a call for any suggested changes, I could not offer reasonable suggestions on a statement just placed in my hands.

As admirable as I find the balance of the statement, I cannot endorse attacks of a personal nature directed against those with whom I may disagree. I had no alternative but to vote "no."

Sincerely,
John Anthony

DISAPPOINTMENT

As a new resident of this community as well as the superintendent of schools, I wish to express my disappointment, both personally and professionally, over the defeat at the polls of the 4-mill school tax proposal. As a new resident, I am disappointed in that I thought there was more community pride than was shown. As an educator, I am disappointed in seeing what has the potential of being a fine school program jeopardized.

Your school staff will not be able to provide the educational program this community deserves without funds. No business can operate satisfactorily without operating capital. Since education is everybody's business, it is the duty of everyone in the community to provide this capital.

The only recourse if funds are not available is to cut services, to cut corners everywhere possible, and thereby short change the education of our children. They are the losers.

This community is not overspending for its public educational program. Much more should be spent to meet serious deficiencies in staffing. For example, 14 additional elementary teachers should be hired immediately in order to get the pupil-teacher ratio in grades kindergarten through six down to the ratio of 30 pupils to one teacher. This is considered to be the maximum ratio for effective teaching.

Additional staff members are also needed at the junior high in order to properly implement the recent curriculum changes there. Additions are needed at the high school in order to put into effect proposed curriculum changes there. An assistant principal is badly needed at the high school.

This community is fortunate to have an extremely capable and dedicated Board of Education. The Board has facts at its disposal and has presented them accurately. The members are working without remuneration to provide for the educational needs of the children of this school district. It is tragic that there is not better support from the community. It is a fearful situation when the people of this community are not

PIER FOR WJ&A

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Atlantic City's first ocean pier was not an amusement pier in the strict sense. It was erected by the West Jersey and Atlantic Railroad as part of its Excursion House facilities, and was opened the same day the railroad line ran its first train into the resort, July 16, 1880.

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A sharp step-up of U. S. military effort in Viet Nam would add to the inflation pressures now building up in the American economy.

Already, some economists are talking about the possibility of an "unhealthy inflationary spending boom" this fall and next year.

These men note:
● The federal tax cut was so arranged that its major effects will come late this year and early next spring.

Take this delayed reaction to the 1964 tax reduction. Then add a general anticipation of next year's installment. Throw in a tendency by consumers to dip into their growing "liquid savings" when times look good for a long stretch ahead. This combination could result in a real spurt in consumer expenditures in the months just ahead.

● Growing "boom feelings" among many businessmen have led to strong plans for industrial expansion during the next 12 months. There is worry among some economists that this optimism will lead to overbuilding of industrial facilities, office buildings and apartments.

If accelerated consumer spending should coincide for three to six months with the strong surge of business investment, we would have the major ingredients of an unhealthy spending boom, with vigorous inflationary pressures. Some economists say the result would be similar to 1955-56.

● Of late, money has gone somewhat enthusiastically into the stock market and has sent share prices up.

● If the recent rate of expansion of the money supply continues, there is a fair probability that commodity prices will begin rising significantly.

● Prices of raw materials have already gone up. Prices of manufactured products have begun creeping upward. A wide array of selective upward price adjustments to improve profit margins and support needed modernization and expansion is likely as demand increases.

Don Juans Run After Divorcees

Dear Ann Landers: What chance does a divorced woman have when a married man goes after her, tells her a string of lies and then, after she has severed all relations with single men who offered marriage he dumps her?

This story is such a tired one I'm ashamed to tell it. My boss couldn't take his eyes off me. He pursued me as if I were the only woman in the world. I was first flattered, then smitten — and finally hopelessly in love.

From the things he had told me about his wife I was sure she was a mess. Then one day we met. I was stunned. She was a beautiful woman, intelligent, gracious, with a sense of humor and an engaging personality.

What's the matter with a man who would run around and cheat on a woman like that? Why did he chase me? And why is he now chasing another divorcee — this time a plain, unattractive one?

You are the lady with the answers. Do you have one for me? — SCORNED A N D WRATHFUL.

Dear Scorned and Wrathful: The Don Juans will always be with us. They must keep proving to themselves that they still have it.

But never mind about HIM, let's talk about you. The divorcee is a particularly vulnerable target because she is a lonely woman who feels like a failure. These "losers" would do well to remember that the married man who chases dames

LANSING (AP) — Work has started on a $630,646 contract for three overpasses, including one interchange, on U. S. 127 north of Jackson, the State Highway Department reports. Completion date on the project is Dec. 1, 1965.

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department has announced that a public hearing will be held at Wayne on Sept. 21 to discuss details of proposed I 275 in Wayne County. The highway is proposed to serve as the west belt superhighway for the Detroit area and will extend from I 75, near Monroe, north to I 96, northwest of Detroit. The hearing will be held at 8 p.m. in the Wayne Memorial High School auditorium.

LANSING (AP) — State Treasurer Sanford Brown reports that income into the state treasury last week totaled $34 million. Expenditures for the same period came to $44.3 million. The treasury has a balance in all funds of $178.61 million, he said.

Dear Ann Landers: I have been married eleven months. My husband told me before we married that his older brother was going to room and board with us. We needed the money and it seemed like a good idea. Every three weeks my husband works the night shift for six days. When my brother-in-law and I are alone he makes passes. My husband would knock his head off if he knew.

I hate to make trouble between brothers but I can't stand this much longer. Please tell me what to do. I've learned a lot from your column. — IN A JAM.

Dear In: The Bible says you are your brother's keeper, but it doesn't say anything about keeping a brother who has the morals of a Tom cat.

Tell "Tom" he has one week to find another place to live or you will speak to your husband about him. And don't fail to make good your threat if he doesn't clear out on schedule.

To solve some of the frustrations, disappointments and disillusionments of married life, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

U.S. Universities Build Research Center In Chile

By RALPH DIGHTON

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Atop a lonely, windswept peak in northern Chile a group of American universities is building the nucleus of star-research center that could become the greatest in the world.

The story comes from Dr. N. U. Mayall, director of Kitt Peak National Observatory near Tucson, where the administration wants to build a $10-million, 150-inch telescope, second only to the 200-inch telescope on Palomar Mountain in California.

Kitt Peak is operated by the Association of Universities for Research in Astronomy — AURA — under contract to the National Science Foundation.

Mountain Picked
AURA three years ago began a survey of possible observatory sites in South America and recently selected the 7,200-foot Chilean mountain called Cerro Tololo 300 miles north of Santiago.

Here will be built, with $500,000 in Air Force funds, a 60-inch telescope to be trained on such little-studied targets as the Clouds of Magellan — the two galaxies nearest us — and the Milky Way, which lies just beyond the horizon of Northern Hemisphere telescopes.

Dangerous Drugs Found In Office Of Fake Doctor

LANSING (AP) — Thomas Novak, a 29-year-old Livonia man charged with practicing medicine without a license, had more than 10,000 capsules and tablets of drugs governed by the state Dangerous Drug Act, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said.

Novak made $150,000 at his practice, Kelley said. Kelley announced the discovery of the drugs after an inspection of Novak's office.

A check of three drugstores near Novak's Detroit office showed a number of prescriptions written by him were filled at each.

Chips And Splinters

Contributions To Chips Welcomed

Have you noticed when dining in public how many persons now whip out their little bottle of sweetener when it's time to love up their coffee? They bypass the sugarbowl as though it held a bullfrog and drop a drop or two from their bottle of sweetener, as though it were going to prolong their life, make their children brilliant and assure a pension.

The Medical Letter suggests that excessive use of artificial sweeteners is against the public interest and it has urged the Food and Drug Administration and other groups to investigate their safety. At least one producer of sweeteners attacked the article as distorted and another said that one of these sweeteners, saccharin, has been tested for years and got a clean bill of health.

Claude Tobin says that the air mail from Escanaba southbound is the only originated in America that starts its trip in a Cadillac to the airport.

Todd Gayeff's electrical engineering brilliance didn't help him solve the weird round of announcements and congratulations he's had since the 37th State Senatorial District primary on the Democratic side. Gayeff's best information is that he ran third, but he got a notification from state Democratic headquarters, the Michigan AFL-CIO, and a congratulatory note from gubernatorial nominee Neil Staebler. He's also been asked to go to a meeting of the Democratic nominees at Lansing but unless the State Board of Canvassers has some lightning bolts to toss about, he isn't planning to attend.

Regulate Parking On Parade Route

Escanaba Police Chief Harold Finman said that all police officers will report at 1 p. m. Saturday to assigned locations for the Logging Congress Parade which will start at 2 p. m.

The parade route will be cleared of cars on Stephenson Ave. from the "Y" to Ludington; and on Ludington St. from Stephenson to 2nd St.

On Stephenson Ave. at 3rd, 5th and 7th Sts. intersections and on Ludington the intersections at 10th and 14th Sts. will be kept open for fire emergencies.

At all other intersections on the parade route motorists may park their cars to observe the parade.

Season On Trout Winds Up Sunday

LANSING (AP) — Trout fishermen are reminded by the State Conservation Department that the regular trout season ends this Sunday.

Rainbow and brown trout still will remain legal catches, however, in nearly 400 designated inland lakes and streams, the Great Lakes, Lake St. Clair and the Detroit, St. Marys and St. Clair rivers.

The extended fall seasons will close at the end of October in some of these waters and will run through November in others.

Top Barbershop Singers Coming

Three nationally-known barbershop quartettes, including the famed Schmitt Brothers, 1951 international champions, are on the program of the annual Bay de Noc barbershop singing concert, which will be held at the Oliver Memorial Auditorium in Escanaba Oct. 10.

Along with the Schmitts on the local parade of harmony will be the Hut Four of Minneapolis, the Velvetones of Madison, Wis., and the Escanaba-Gladstone Bay de Noc chorus.

The Schmitt Brothers come from a family of 17 children and claim Two Rivers, Wis., as their home. They started their barbershop quartette career in 1949 when they joined the Manitowoc County chapter of the SPEBSQSA and in November of 1950 became Land O' Lakes district champions. Seven months later they became international champions. In recent years they have curtailed the travels which took them to points in the United States, Canada and Alaska. They have starred on several Escanaba barbershop shows and return this year by popular acclaim.

The Hut Four singers from St. Paul-Minneapolis are also repeaters on the Escanaba stage where they are known for novelty and comedy songs which they mix in with their close harmony. They got their start in the army at Fort Riley, Kansas, in 1953, and their name recalls the army cadence call of "hut-two, three, four." The Huts are former district champions and semi-finalists in international competition.

The Velvetones, who have been singing together for 12 years, are runnersup in international rating. Their lineup includes Bob Cuming, tenor, Mauston; Iver Leatherberry, lead, Ripon; Larry Reddeman, baritone, Portage; and Ron Skare, bass, Madison.

Under the direction of Paul Cowen, music director in the Gladstone Public Schools, the Escanaba-Gladstone area singers of the Bay de Noc chorus are at work on a group of songs for their part in the Oct. 10 "Harvest of Harmony" concert. All members of the chorus are also taking part in preparing the souvenir program booklet which has been a feature of the local shows since they were first presented 17 years ago.

Signs Hopeful In Traffic Toll

LANSING (AP) — State police have found some hopeful signs toward eventual cutdown in Michigan's highway traffic toll despite the grim report of 21 killed over the Labor Day weekend.

Last year there were 35 persons killed in the same number of hours.

"Our toll over Labor Day was less than the average summer weekend—25 deaths—and we are encouraged by this," said Capt. Donald Oates, commanding officer of the Traffic and Safety Division.

Oates said the cut in the number of Labor Day fatalities came about for various reasons. "I think drivers are becoming more responsible," he said. "Our stricter enforcement helped. I'm sure the newspaper radio and television messages helped."

Helping to keep the Michigan Labor Day traffic toll down was a lack of multiple-death accidents, Oates observed.

"There were only two fatal accidents taking two lives each over the weekend compared to some weekends where there have been multiple deaths, with five, six or seven in a car or truck. These tragedies have mounted our death toll. We have had nothing like those this weekend," he said.

Muzzled Press Delayed In Seoul

SEOUL (AP) — President Chung Hee Park has indefinitely postponed enforcement of his government's controversial press control law.

The five-week-old measure has been under sharp attack from journalists who charged it was designed to muzzle the press. The government said the law was necessary to prevent the press from fomenting unrest.

Park said the government expects the press to discipline itself.

House Designs Confuse Buyers

(AP) Newsfeatures
Officers, appraisers and inspectors of home mortgage lending institutions have found it increasingly difficult to keep track of the latest in house design features, new materials and labor and cost savings construction techniques.

Since it is their job to decide how much money can be advanced for how long on what kind of residential property, they have been hard pressed to make accurate assessments of long-term values. If they fail to recognize new concepts in the housing field and insist that builders stick to traditional construction methods, an improved housing standard of living will come slowly.

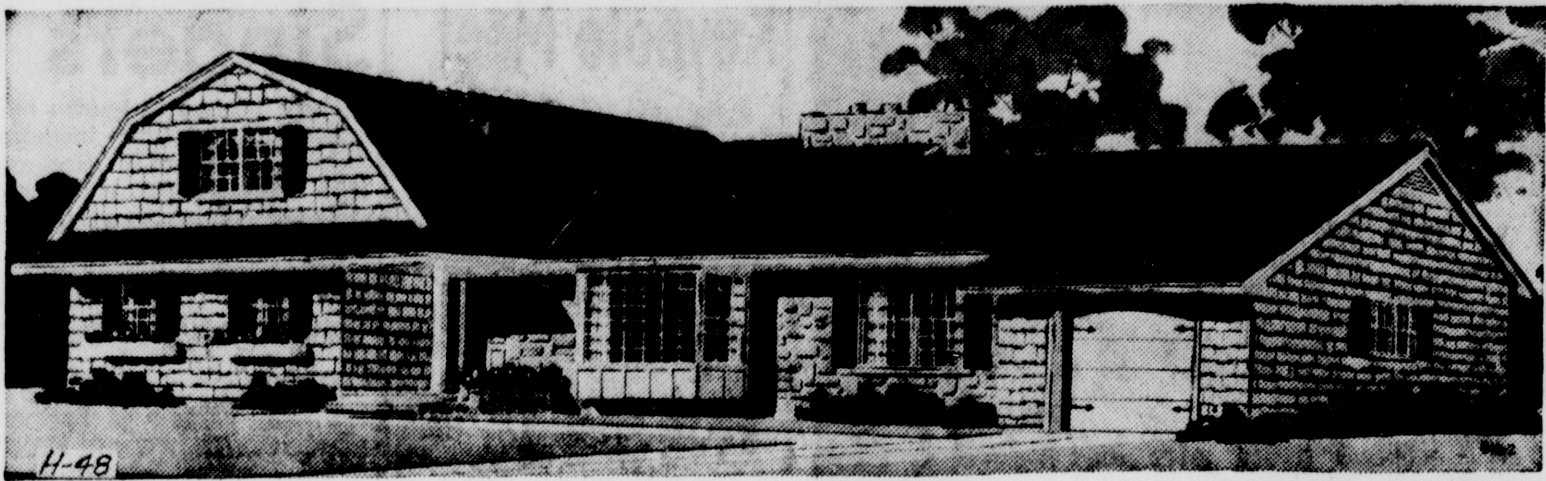

The United States Savings and Loan League has taken a giant step forward in an effort to keep American mortgage lending officials up to date on what's what in housing construction. It has just distributed the first part of a construction lending guide to more than 5,000 savings and loan associations throughout the country. The initial sections of the guide deal with land planning, and design, as well as a substantial amount of wordage on home construction. Later, the associations will receive the rest of the construction material and data on appraising and construction loan procedures.

By distributing the information in a huge loose-leaf binder, additions and revisions can easily be made over the years as new materials and techniques evolve.

Among those who have worked on compilation of the facts in the guide are James T. Lendrum, head of the department of architecture at the University of Florida; Walter H. Lewis, associate professor of architecture at the University of Illinois; architect John L. Schmidt, former consultant at the University of Illinois Small Homes Council; and a committee of savings and loan officers headed by James H. Snellings of Orlando, Fla.

We talked with Norman Strunk, executive vice president of the United States Savings and Loan League, about the new guide and asked him what kind of reception it had received. He replied: "It's something we had conceived and worked on since late in 1959 and naturally we were optimistic about its reception, since we saw a definite need for it. But no matter how much you talk about something, people have to see it to make a proper judgment. Ever since we sent out the first part of the guide, we have been deluged with congratulatory messages, including two from Joseph P. McMurray, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board and Phillip N. Brownstein, commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration. All of us feel that it has been worthwhile."

Dutch Colonial Is Modern

EXPANDABLE DUTCH COLONIAL: the inviting exterior of this Dutch Colonial is blended with modern interior comfort. An expansion area under gambrel roof at the left permits the addition, now or later, of two bedrooms and a large bathroom.

By ANDY LANG

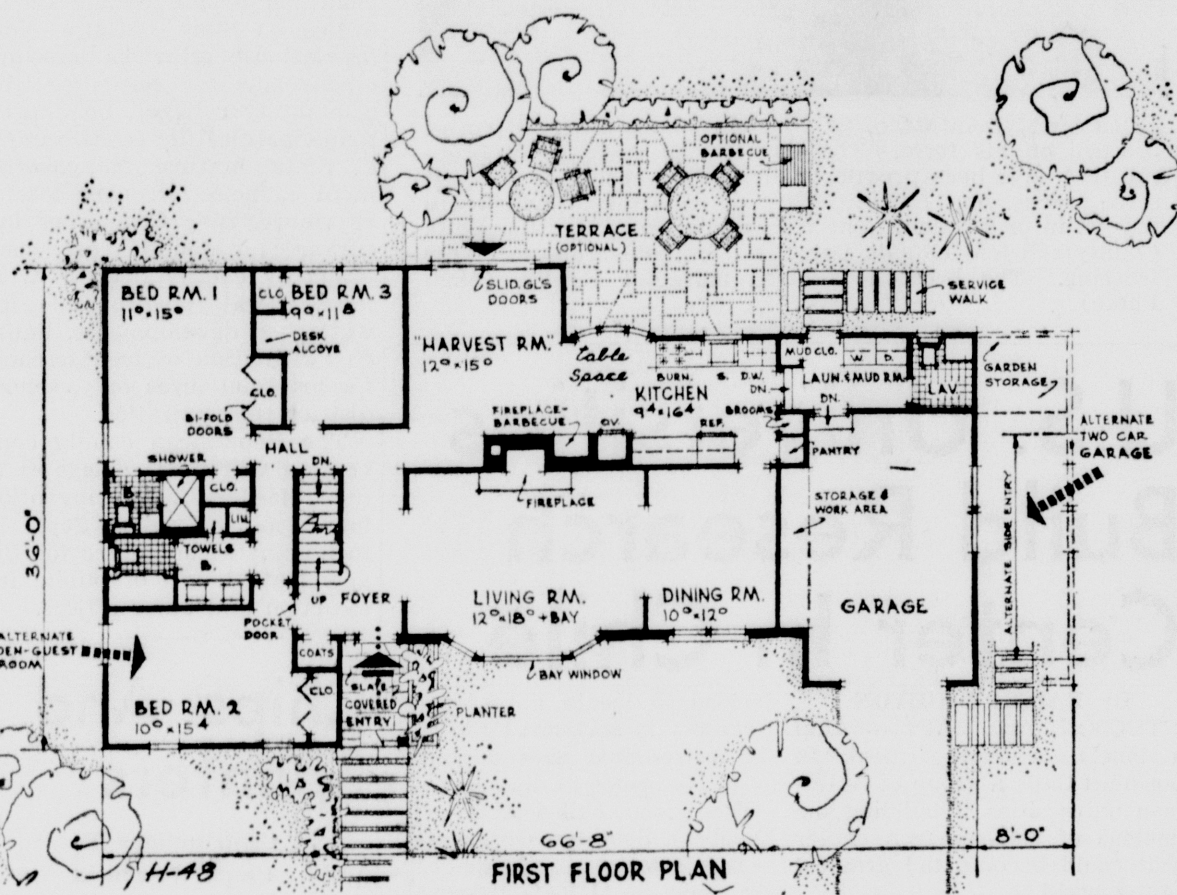

The profusion of Dutch Colonial homes that dotted the Pennsylvania countryside years ago has dwindled to a handful. But time has not diminished the warmth and charm that seem to flow naturally from the architectural lines of this type of house.

The visible aspects of the Dutch Colonial have been recaptured by architect Herman H. York in the latest House of the Week. To appearance he has added a series of modern features designed to make family living the ultimate in comfort in this day and age. An expansion area above the bedroom wing permits either the immediate or eventual addition of two bedrooms, a large bathroom and plenty of closet space.

Three bedrooms are located on the first floor level, but even here there is some flexibility. Besides the regular door to the bedroom hall, one of the bedrooms has a pocket door connected to the front foyer. This neat arrangement makes the room conveniently accessible should the owner wish to use it as a guest room or den. All three rooms in the bedroom wing have ample closets. One bathroom is off the hall, the other is in the master bedroom.

Since many of the old Dutch Colonials were, in effect, farmhouses, architect York has injected a touch of the past into Design H-47 by calling the family room the "Harvest Room." This room, often used for informal living, is neatly hidden from view of all the formal areas of the house. It is open wide to the kitchen and has a barbecue fireplace, all a part of the brick enclosure for the built-in oven. Backed up to the barbecue is a wood-burning fireplace for the living room. The flue for the furnace is also in this masonry unit, making a compact economical arrangement for the stone chimney.

The rear terrace can be reached from the Harvest Room and kitchen through sliding glass doors, which help to create a feeling of indoor-outdoor living. The kitchen is arranged to provide control of the rear yard from a window over the sink. It is near the service area, consisting of the garage, laundry, mud room and lavatory, which has a rear door.

FLOOR PLANS: Expandable features make this home suitable for family requiring from two to five bedrooms. Also, note long sweep from living room through dining room and from Harvest Room through kitchen.

Usually the least-used in the house, the dining room is found in a "dead end" location between the living room and the kitchen. It is unnecessary to go through it to reach the kitchen because the more natural line of traffic is through the often-used Harvest Room. The living room, with an attractive bay window, is directly off the foyer, but need not be crossed to get to any other part of the house.

The warmth of this house is readily seen in the contour of the roof lines. The Dutch gam-vide ample ventilation for this second floor.

The house walls are covered with stone of a rough, irregular variety and natural cedar shakes. The roof is black asphalt shingle, authentic at least in color if not in texture. White trim, doors, shutters and flower boxes add to the Dutch Colonial motif.

A stairway to the basement is shown on the floor plan of this house, which has 1554 square feet of habitable area on the first floor (excluding the laundry, garage and storage section) and 479 square feet upstairs. In areas where a basement is impractical, a closet can be located where the stairway is. The furnace then could be placed where the broom closet and pantry now are shown. These latter enclosures could be moved to the space set aside for garage storage.

MADE HASTE SLOWLY?
LOUISVILLE (AP) — Workmen hurriedly installed an emergency telephone line to the Louisville City Hall to guard against an interruption of service.

In the process, a cable was cut accidentally near the city building. Eighty fire alarm boxes were knocked out.

Hot Dry Spell Curtails Crops

WASHINGTON (AP) — This year's crop production prospects were reduced about two per cent by hot dry weather in August, the Agriculture Department reported Thursday, but it said high yields are expected just the same.

The department said production would be about nine per cent above the relatively high 1957-59 average. It said most of the decline was in the Midwestern corn belt, where corn and soybeans were particularly affected.

The department predicted these outputs from farms in Michigan:

Corn for grain, 100,485,000 bushels; winter wheat, 40,720,000 bushels; oats, 32,200,000 bushels; dry beans, 7,152,000 hundredweight; sugar beets, 1,386,000 tons; Apples, 19,000,000 bushels; peaches, 3,600,000 bushels; pears, 2,200,000 bushels; fall crop potatoes, 7,800,000 hundredweight.

The Republic of Ecuador was named after a great circle on the earth.

SPACIOUS KITCHEN: The 16'4" depth of this kitchen appears even larger because of interlocking Harvest Room, one end is marked by fireplace at right. Adjoining oven is in kitchen.

Roof Improves Home Terrace

AP Newsfeatures
You can get more mileage out of your outdoor terrace if you put a roof over it.

It can give a nice cozy feeling that even the caveman must have appreciated while protecting himself from the elements. What a joy to sit outdoors when a light summer rain is falling or to bask in the sun's reflection without blistering!

Inexpensive coverings can give as much satisfaction as more expensive permanent arrangements. In fact, the temporary awning makes it look gayer. Wisely chosen, this will not ruin the appearance of any outdoor patio. The key is in choosing a material and color that is sympathetic with the house and ground cover.

A wood house looks good with either a permanent roof or awning. Over a redwood deck, one can put redwood or cedar shakes or an ordinary canvas awning that can be the gayest contrivance of all. Some awnings can roll up and down at a pull, but the most popular types are those that are anchored on their metal framework in permanent fashion until winter sets in. These are then removed, bound and then stored until the next season of sun.

If a very small area is involved, the homeowner may be able to make his own awning. A man who is adept at stitching up sailboat canvases, for instance, might like to try his hand at awnings.

Temporary roofs can be dressed up in a festive fashion.

Plants may be hung from the metal superstructure for a very pleasing effect. Colored glass lanterns or hurricane shades can make the area especially attractive at night. White, green or rust-colored canvas is good over wood, while wide-striped canvases are good over flagstone, brick and slate. Yellow and white with gray slate is a good combination.

If there is very little space outdoors, one may wish to roof the area only partially, so that when full sun is desirable one may take advantage of it. If there is a lot of foliage around that tends to darken the area, a roof that combines planking and plastic panels may be erected, so that plenty of light can shine through the plastic above.

Stone, brick and cinderblock houses can be mellowed by an overhang that rests on wood beams strategically set into the ground around the flagstone or brick floor. A temporary roof can be put over it or a permanent roof can be built, but professional skill is required if it is to be added to the house as an afterthought, because crossbeams necessitate carved niches in the facade. When the roof is to be used for only several months a year, the temporary roof seems to be the best solution. It looks good, serves the purpose, and may be replaced in years to come at slight cost to the owner.

Some people will wonder what you do about bugs at night once you have your outdoor terrace so pretty that you hate to leave it. The only answer is retreat from the onslaught. One generally can't use these outdoor spots at night, but they pay off for the time they can be enjoyed. The only other solution is a screened-in porch, which is another kind of thing.

Two East Berlin Families Escape Hidden In Meat

BERLIN (AP) — Two East Berlin couples and their 11 children escaped to West Berlin during the night hidden in a refrigerator truck beneath meat.

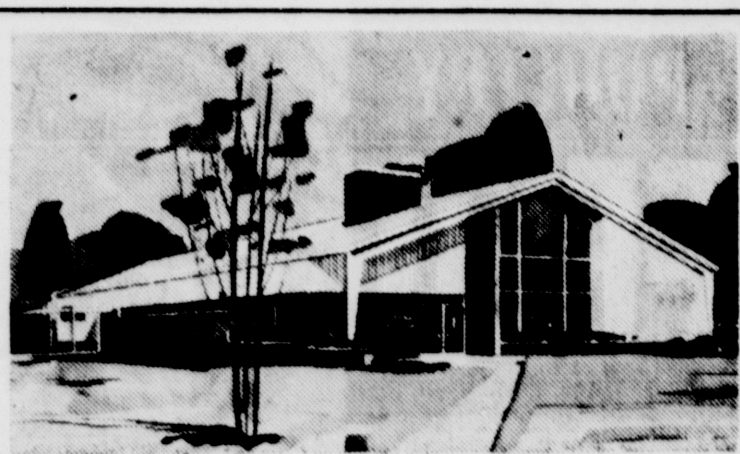

The children were drugged with sleeping pills to prevent them from making any noise while border guards were inspecting the truck.

West Berlin police said the children ranged in age from 1 to 11 years. They were taken to a refugee camp to join their parents after a checkup.

War On Poverty Changing U.P.'s Relief Program

Even before the federal War on Poverty campaign gets well started there is a discernible liberalization of welfare aid and the campaign is expected to further influence the existing welfare program in the Upper Peninsula.

This program has been shifting base. Once a relatively modest program consisting largely of volunteer efforts by Women's Clubs and Relief Societies, and of official dispensing of checks by the county poor commissioners, it underwent a sudden change in the Great Depression of the early 1930s.

The federal government stepped strongly into welfare programs at that time, setting up matching fund partnerships with the states. The counties were cued into these programs, too, and the larger municipalities.

The volume of welfare aid in this new concept of government responsibility for the unemployed, the needy, the ill, and other troubled citizens has fluctuated with economic conditions, but the trend has been consistently toward expansion of government welfare programs.

The federal government paid most or all of the expense of programs in launching them, but there is a tendency now to keep the federal controls for administration, but to cut the states in for a larger share of the financial support. The counties are not as influential in welfare policy making as they used to be, although their share of the costs continued to rise.

Lytle Plowman, director of the Delta County Welfare Department, noted that whereas Aid to Dependent Children was given only after families had been broken up for a year at inception of the program about 3 years ago, the waiting period was later reduced to 6 months. This week it was reduced to 3 months.

Counties used to carry needy children of such families with their own funds until they were eligible for ADC. Plowman said that while the change may be criticized as encouraging separations it should also serve to help reconciliations.

Mothers of broken families will have more to work with now quicker than under county aid. The old thinking was to keep such families on food orders to avoid foolish spending, but there's been a change in thinking of welfare administrators on the point.

There are more than 130 ADC cases in Delta County for various reasons, father deceased, separated, illegitimacy, etc. The list is fairly static and some of the children who lost a father early are on the list for very long periods—through high school.

The Aid to the Disabled category of help has also been liberalized. Where once this aid was granted only to persons permanently and totally disabled, it is now administered on a basis which offers aid in some cases where rehabilitation is possible.

The War on Poverty (Economic Opportunity Act) is expected to affect many persons involved in the welfare programs because it will deal with families of low income, and his is a major factor in creating need for government aid. The campaign is already creating more pressure for the integration of relief offices in the counties of Michigan.

There are two welfare systems in Michigan, one the County Social Welfare Department, and the other the Bureau of Social Aid, which latter organization administers the federal and state welfare programs like Old Age Assistance, Medical Aid to the Aged, Aid to the Blind, Aid to the Disabled, ADC, etc.

The County Social Welfare Department handles hospitalization not in a federal-state Bureau of Social Aid category, direct relief, surplus foods, etc. Only 14 counties of the 83 in Michigan have both of these welfare systems in one office, and 8 of these counties are in the U. P. They include Delta.

The mockingbird has a song of its own.

Doctors Build Up Rochester, Minn.

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—Some towns are built on a mining industry, some on steel, some on lumber. Rochester is built on doctors.

If you walked the streets of this southern Minnesota city, and could count on meeting a cross-section of its population, every forty-fifth person would be a physician.

Rochester is the home of the Mayo Clinic, which this year will mark its 100th birthday. The clinic has become a magnet for the famous—and for persons wanting top medical diagnoses or with ailments that have baffled their local doctors.

Kings and queens, heads of state, persons prominent in the entertainment, sports and business worlds are such frequent patients at Mayo's that their presence creates little stir in this town of 45,000.

So are people with uncommon troubles—malfunctioning hearts, rare eye disorders, torn limbs they hope to save from amputation.

The clinic takes them all—nearly 2,600,000 to date.

Started In 1864

Wooded hills flank Rochester and give way to typical farming country nearby, but there is no mistaking that Rochester grew on and for the clinic.

It all began in 1864 when a native of Manchester, England, Dr. William Worrall Mayo, came to the then hamlet of 3,000 and began practice.

Two sons, William James and Charles Horace, became doctors and began to practice with their father. After he died, Dr. Will and Dr. Charlie, as they were known, took on three other doctors in what came to be known informally as the Mayo Clinic.

By 1914 they had their own building—a two-story red brick structure that still stands in contrast to the two Mayo skyscrapers, and serves as a laboratory.

The clinic grew in scope and reputation. Its first large building, a 15-story structure of tan

Italian marble, topped by a six-story bell tower, was completed in 1939. Two other buildings have since joined it. Clinic hospital patients are treated chiefly in two large Rochester hospitals, separately owned but working closely with the clinic.

Fourth Generation

Dr. Will and Dr. Charlie died within a few months of each other in 1939.

Dr. Charles W. Mayo, son of Charles H., formally retired from the clinic and as chairman of its board last October, at 65.

The Mayo name is carried on at the clinic by his son, an intern, Dr. Charles H. Mayo II, 33, represents the fourth generation of Mayos at the clinic.

The clinic has a professional staff of 400 doctors, and 600 more, including 50 from abroad are being fitted into the staff under its fellowship program.

Two Mayo doctors, Edward C. Kendall and Philip S. Hench, won a Nobel Prize in 1950 for their work with cortisone.

A special stamp, to go on sale in Rochester today, will honor these and other Mayo achievements in its centennial.

The state names of Alaska, Hawaii, Idaho, Iowa, Maine, Ohio and Utah should not be abbreviated on an envelope.

Firm Is Dealer For Sargent Paints

Hancock Lumber Co. of Manistique, a 60-year-old business provides a large selection of builders' goods, including locally-manufactured hard and softwoods from the company's sawmill.

West Coast lumber, Sargent paints, windows, doors, including new fibre glass garage doors, Johns Manville-tile and insulation, U.S. gypsum plaster, sheetrock and roofing, Flintkote siding, masonite products, builders' hardware, tools by Stanley and Sandvik, and fiberglass insulation are included in its large inventory.

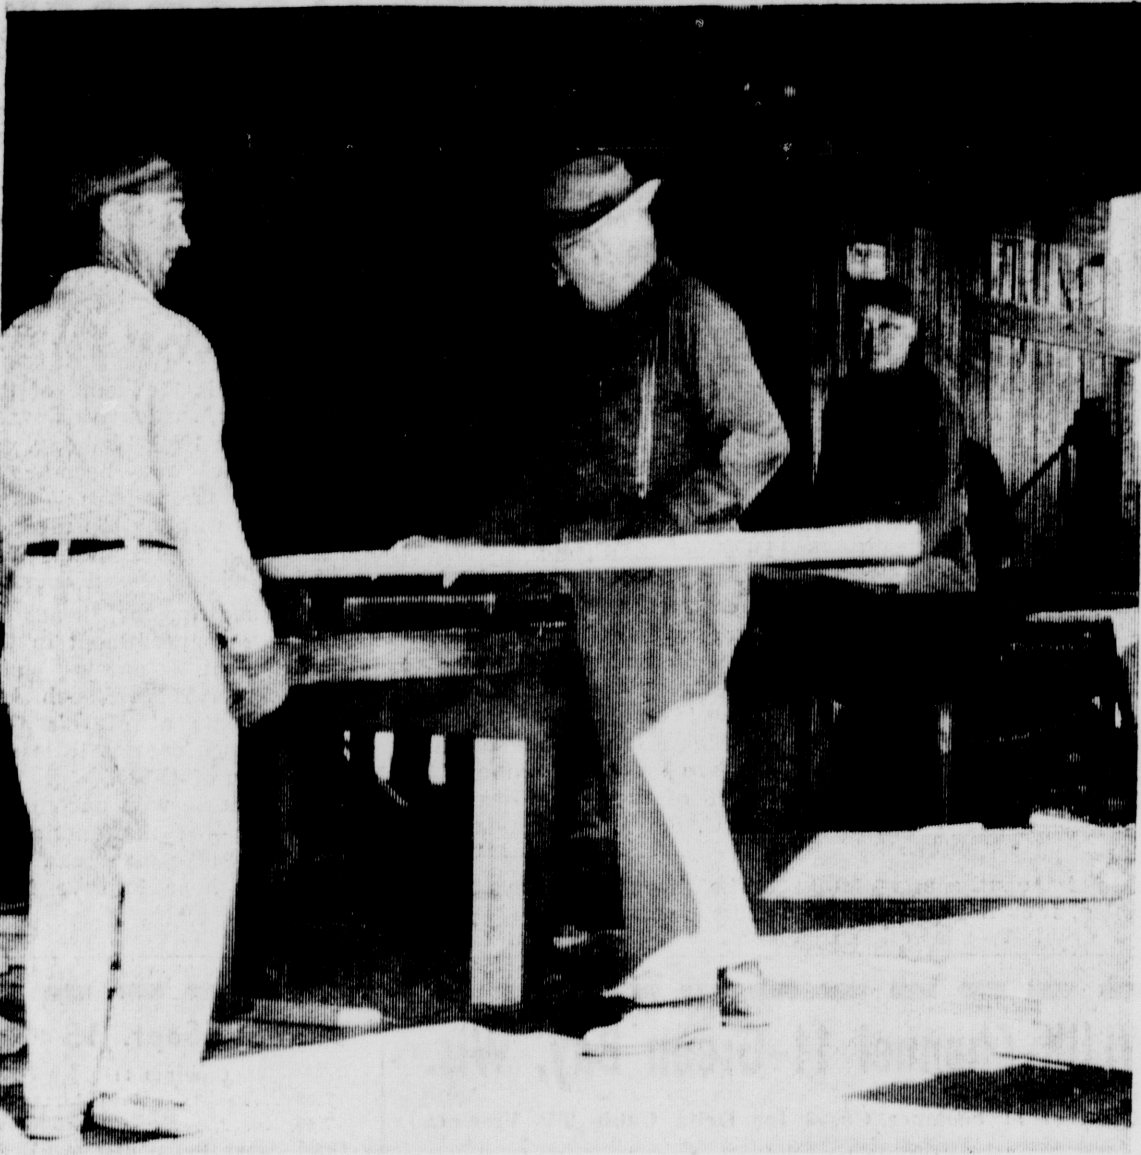

Delivery service is provided throughout Schoolcraft County.

Hardwoods are used more extensively in the mill, for furniture and flooring factory stock. The bulk of the softwood is manufactured for lumber used locally.

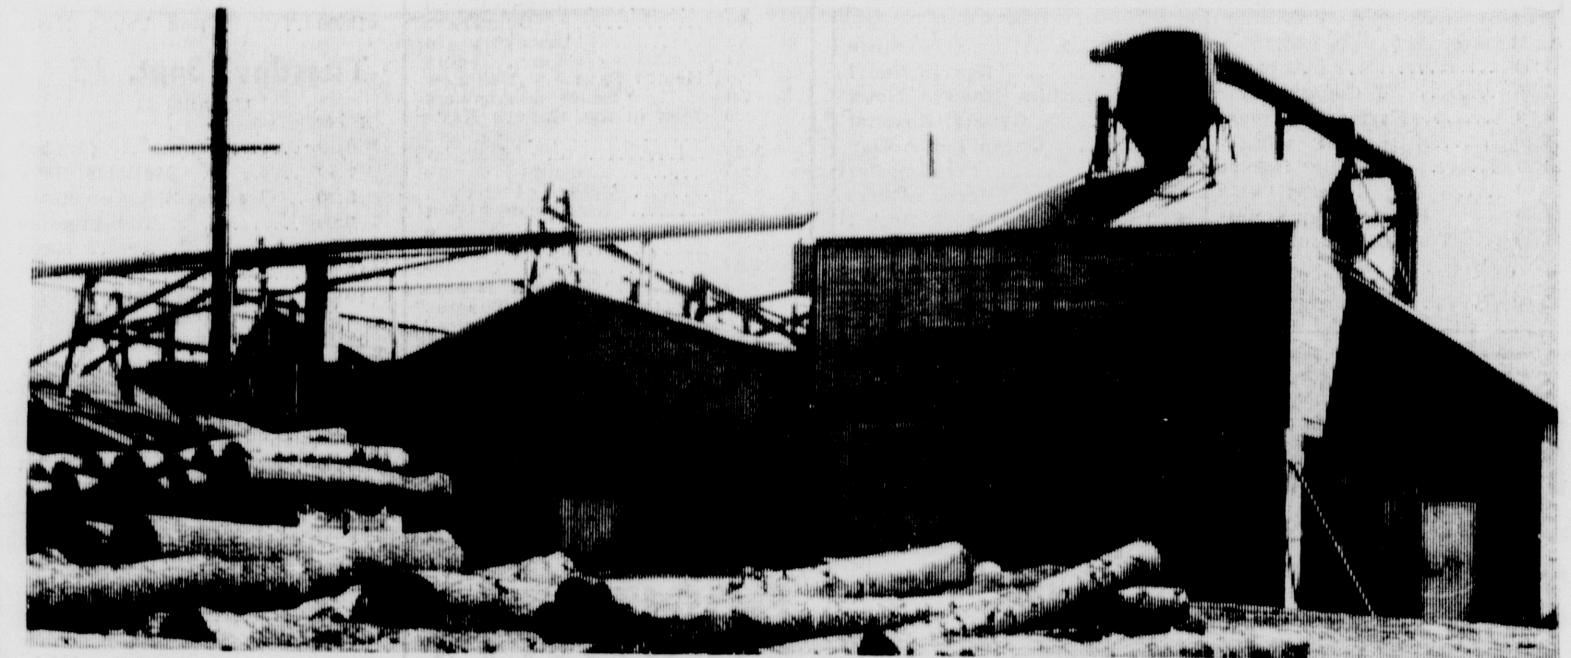

In addition to the employment provided at the mill, the firm's operations create employment for men cutting the timber to supply it.

Hancock's is developing the Intake Park subdivision, where a series of fine new homes have been constructed in a 21-lot picturesque area along the Indian River.

Theodore Richards and James A. Miller operate the firm.

THEODORE RICHARDS, co-owner, at right, with Elmer Reickhoff and Marty Solar operating the sawmill. Beech hardwood lumber was being produced that day.

WAYNE RICHARDS prepares paint for a customer from the Sargent line offered by Hancock Lumber Co. An acrylic quick-drying paint, a one-coat "888" paint and a clear varnish which retains the natural color of wood panelling are among the products in the Sargent paint line.

JAMES A. MILLER, co-owner of the mill and lumber Company operates a carriage as a log is cut into lumber.

Story Program Saturday Morning

A runaway pumpkin, a watchdog who couldn't stay awake, and the oddest animal you ever saw in a zoo are to be featured on Story Time program Saturday at 10 a. m. in the Children's Room of Escanaba Public Library. The stories will be: "Pumpkin Moonshine", "The Sleepy Watchdog", and "The Famous Blue Gnu of Colonel Kachoo". All boys and girls who are age three and older are invited to attend.

The slides with commentary by Mr. Brien, depicted typhoon damage to 16 village rice paddies showing the planting and harvesting of the rice, harvesting bamboo, modes of transportation and native dances. Of interest were the large loads on a two-wheeled trailer pulled by a bicycle. The Brien's were on the island of Taiwan or Formosa for six weeks. Their sons, Maryknoll Missionaries, have been there four years.

The spiritual program was presented by the chairman of the Spiritual Development Committee, Mrs. Rodger Quist, assisted by Mrs. Lloyd Olson and Miss Mary Lou Urbanc.

The committee had a large display of religious articles and literature, all articles which can be used to increase faith. Also suggested were missions, Cana Conferences, retreats, novenas, Masses and family devotions. Two readings were given by Miss Urbanc, "Equal Time" and "You Owe The World Your Time, Energy And Talent."

Members of Phoebe Rebekah Lodge 179 celebrated the 103rd anniversary of the founding of the order at a birthday party last evening at the I.O.O.F. Hall, given by the hostesses, Harriet Carlson, Linnea Bolm, Irma McMartin and Bertha Berg.

The dining room was gaily decorated with streamers and balloons and a large inflated black cow added a humorous note to the decor. Each member was presented with several gifts, compliments of many Escanaba merchants.

Tiny decorated birthday cakes with a single candle in the center were at each place and during the evening the lights were dimmed, the candles were lit and the Rebekahs sang the traditional birthday song.

Area Football Teams Face Busy Weekend

Eskey At Home; Ishpeming Foe

The first football game of the 1964 season to be played in Escanaba will match the Eskeymos against the Ishpeming Hematites in Great Lakes Conference action here Saturday at 3.

Coach Jerry Cvengros' Eskey gridders, waylaid 12-7 in their opener at Menominee last week, have been working overtime in practice sessions to mend their ways for their first Great Lakes Conference test.

A slight shuffle in the Escanaba lineup was caused by the loss of halfback Pete Benson who suffered a broken arm in the second half of the game at Menominee. Bob Haack will move into that spot on offense and Carl Olson takes over for Benson on defense. Jack Long also gets a starting nod on the defensive team with the change this week.

Otherwise, all Eskeymo starters will remain the same as last week with veterans manning

The Marquette Iron Rangers hockey team has inked Jim Jacobson, former Michigan State star, to a one year contract. Jacobson is a Marquette native and was a standout with the Sentinels before his college career.

Bill Rademacher, former Menominee athlete and Northern Michigan University football star, was cut from the roster of the New York Jets of the AFL this week. Rademacher had been sidelined with a leg injury during most of the pre-season exhibition schedule.

The Upper Peninsula trapshooting championship event will be staged in Sault Ste. Marie Saturday and Sunday with the Izaak Walton Club hosting the final event of the season. The shooting will start at 9 a.m. and continue throughout the weekend. William Ranta is in charge of reservations.

Brook Storm, former great Ironwood athlete and the first football All-America produced by the Air Force Academy, is now a captain serving as an astronautical engineer at the Missile Development Center at Holloman, N.M. Storm was captain of the Air Force team that compiled a 9-0-1 season record and played a 0-0 deadlock with favored TCU in the Cotton Bowl in the 1958 season.

Gene Maki of Wakefield, secretary of the Upper Peninsula Sportswriters Assn., has completed a compilation of Upper Peninsula high school football records from 1946 to the present. His report reveals that Wakefield is the winningest team in the period following War II. In that 18 year stretch the Cardinals fashioned a 107-31-2 record.

Tom Jensen captured the Pine Grove Country Club men's tournament trophy with a 1 up victory over Tom Renn, canning a 10 foot putt on the final green for the championship.

Peshtigo climbed into a tie for first place in the Wishigan baseball league standings with idle Wallace by defeating Stephenson 13-7 in a slugfest match that saw the two teams pound out 27 hits. Winning pitcher for Peshtigo was Bill Herman, who recently signed a Boston Red Sox contract. Peshtigo and Wallace have 13-2 records and will play their final league games Sunday.

Ironwood, undefeated champion of the Michigan-Wisconsin Conference last fall, took a 20-0 licking from Wakefield in the season opener last weekend. The Red Devils were limited to 11 yards gained from scrimmage and crossed the 50 yard line only twice on their own power. The victory was marred by the loss of Wakefield end Jim Franck, 6 foot, 5 inch, 217 pounds, with a broken arm in the fourth quarter.

Coach Al Sandona's Iron River Redskins squeaked past Hancock 14-13 in their season opener with junior quarterback Dane Dominici passing for one touchdown and senior halfback Jim Johnson scoring another and adding both extra points. Mike DeCesare passed to end Jim Parker for both the Hancock touchdowns.

Steve Shephard scored twice and Ron Shquist once as Coach Donald McDonald's Stambaugh Hilltoppers opened with an 18-7 verdict over Negaunee. McDonald was named Upper Peninsula football coach of the year last fall when his Hilltoppers compiled a 7-1 record, bowing only to Kingsford's U.P. champs.

Crusaders Open At Bulldog Field

When the Holy Name Crusaders take the field at Rudyard at 2 Saturday afternoon for their first taste of football competition this season, they'll be facing a team that led Sault Ste. Marie 13-0 at halftime before bowing 26-13 in last week's opener.

The Rudyard Bulldogs, coached by Roy Hamilton have a nucleus of 12 lettermen from last year's squad, in addition to a pair of new assistant coaches in Bob Kalbfleisch and Gary Shanley, both former Northern Michigan University stars.

In the opener against Soo, Rudyard slammed over two touchdowns in the first half. Halfback Jay Uhalt recovered a fumble on the Soo 44 and capped a drive by snaring a two yard pass from quarterback Frank Becker for the first TD.

Rich Crews, Rudyard's leading ground gainer with 52 yards in nine trips, scored on a two yard run in the second frame. Rudyard gained 86 yards rushing and added 52 through the air, hitting on five of a dozen passes.

The Bulldogs wilted in the second half as Soo, defending Great Lakes Conference champion and undefeated in all games last year, exploded for four touchdowns.

Coach Bob Nystrom, guiding Holy Name for the first time, has built his Crusader club around three offensive veterans back from last year. Tackle Eugene Fregetto anchors the front line and Frank Trotter directing traffic from the quarterback spot. Veteran Tom Meinz will handle the left halfback spot.

Rounding out the starting lineup on offense will be Bill Menard and Paul Kangas at ends, Jim Bonifas or John D'Amour at tackle, Pat Sinclair and Pete Petr at guards, Tom Almonroeder or Dan Pfeiffer at center, Bill O'Connell at halfback and Jim Shondonay at fullback.

Seven defensive players slated for action are Tom Bartol, Mike Kangas, Dan Sabor, Bob Sullivan, John Lark, Mike Kidd and Greg Brandt.

When the two teams clashed here last fall Holy Name rolled to a lopsided 40-0 decision.

Chris Short Stops Cards

By The Associated Press
"I feel I'm a better pitcher than the batter is a hitter," says Chris Short.

The Philadelphia ace proved his point again Thursday but this time went one step further.

He showed he was a better hitter than all of the St. Louis batters combined by driving home the first two runs in the National League-leading Phillies' 5-1 victory over the Cardinals.

Short, in fact, belted two hits — a key triple and a single — in four times at bat.

The 26-year-old hurler came to the plate in the second inning with runners at first and third and one out. He promptly lashed a triple to the right field bullpen, bringing in Tony Taylor and Ruben Amaro with the first two runs of a five-run outburst.

Short's pitching, meanwhile, didn't suffer. He held the Cardinals to six hits while striking out 12 and walking one.

The victory was his 16th — he has seven losses — tying him with Jim Bunning as the team's winningest pitcher. The southpaw's earned run average — 1.89 — is second only to Sandy Koufax' 1.74 among NL pitchers.

Short's over-all performance was particularly vital because the victory boosted the Phillies' lead to six games over St. Louis, Cincinnati and San Francisco.

A defeat would have moved the Cardinals to within four games of the top with the Phillies facing an important three-game series starting in San Francisco tonight. No one has been as close as four games behind Philadelphia since Aug. 15.

The Reds blanked Pittsburgh 3-0 Friday night while the Giants knocked off Los Angeles 5-1. Milwaukee nipped New York 7-7 and Chicago edged Houston 4-3 in National League afternoon games.

Another Boom

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. — (NEA)—The latest boom in competitor sports has been in water skiing.

By late July, the American Water Ski Association had sanctioned 80 water ski tournaments throughout the country and predicted that by the end of the season the figure would reach 100.

Officials also said that over 100 other water ski tournaments have been held without the formality of an AWSA sanction.

Even Triple Play Can't Stop Hank Bauer's Club

By The Associated Press
The bases are loaded and your best hitter is up. He bangs into a triple play, but you don't worry. A run scores on the play and that sort of thing happens only to winners.

As long as Hank Bauer's Baltimore Orioles are winners, he can take the triple plays in stride. Especially if they produce runs. That's what happened in the midst of Baltimore's 12-5 victory over Washington Thursday night.

The Orioles had scored eight runs in the fourth inning and looked to be ready for some more in the fifth when Jerry Adair, Luis Aparicio and Boog Powell opened with consecutive singles loading the bases. Brooks Robinson, who had seven straight hits was the batter.

Robinson bounced to Senator shortstop John Kennedy and Adair scored as Kennedy flipped to Don Blasingame, who relayed to Joe Cunningham to complete the seemingly routine double play. But when Aparicio tried to score too, Cunningham's throw to catcher Mike Brumley caught Aparicio and produced the American League's first triple play of the season. Four triple plays had been previously recorded in the National League.

The victory kept the Orioles one game in front of Chicago, which went 10 innings before nipping Minnesota 3-2, and 1½ up on third place New York, which used home run power to drop Detroit 5-2. In the only other American League game played, Cleveland edged Boston 5-4.

Robinson had a big night except for the triple play. He rapped three singles and a double in the 17-hit Oriole attack, scoring two runs and knocking in two.

Sam Bowens contributed a three-run homer in the Orioles' big inning and also had a run-scoring double. Milt Pappas parlayed the heavy support into his 15th victory and seventh in a row.

Ron Hansen rifled his 17th homer of the season off loser Jim Kaat in the 10th inning for Chicago's victory over Minnesota. Hansen's shot came on a 3-0 pitch.

Sox starter Joel Horlen and Kaat had duelled through eight innings before Horlen left for a hitter. Hoyt Wilhelm finished up and won it for Chicago.

Elston Howard crashed a three-run homer and that was all Al Downing needed for his 12th victory as the Yankees kept pace. Joe Pepitone also homered for New York.

Downing limited the Tigers to five hits, one of them Al Kaline's 14th homer.

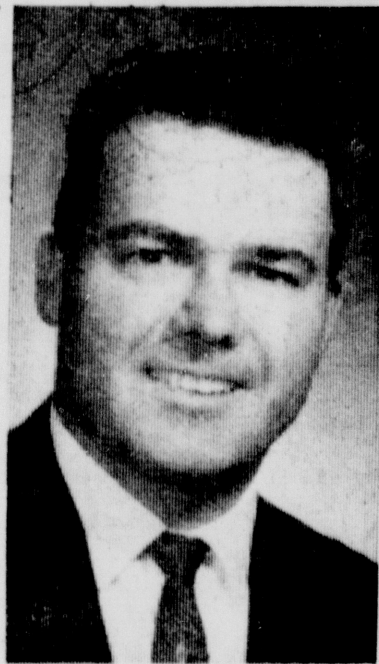

Pitcher Sonny Siebert and rookie Chico Salmon ripped home runs for the Indians and Don McMahon's tight relief protected the victory over the Red Sox. Dick Stuart belted his 31st homer and Tony Conigliaro got his 21st, both with a man on for Boston.

Northern Opens Slate Saturday

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University's football team will travel to Cedar Falls, Iowa, Saturday to open their 1964 grid campaign against the State College of Iowa.

The game, slated to start at 7:30 p. m. (EST), pits a largely untested Northern eleven against a veteran-packed Iowa club.

Coach Stan Sheriff's Panthers, who last year edged Northern 12-11 to hand the Wildcats their first home defeat in 15 games, will boast one of the biggest lines in SCI's grid history.

SCI's offensive line will average 226 pounds, with the big boost coming at the tackle position where four candidates tip the scales at 245 pounds. Northern's front line is expected to average 215 pounds.

Despite the possibility of an overpowering ground game between CSI and Northern, both clubs have experienced passers in quarterbacks Rich Oliphant and Terry Nyquist.

Oliphant, who last year hit 8 of 12 passes against Wildcat defenders, is expected to run SCI's number one unit despite the challenge from sophomore Dick Olin who Sheriff ranks as his best passing prospect.

Northern's coach, F. L. (Frosty) Ferzacca, is expected to count on the passing of Nyquist and the running of fullback Tim Tranetzk and halfback Dennis Gorsline to offset SCI's big line.

Also expected to start in Northern's offensive backfield is halfback Len Trudeau of Norway. Trudeau was tapped by Ferzacca to fill the vacancy created by the injured Bob Erickson of Wakefield.

Expected to get starting offensive line positions for the Wildcats are: ends Byron Johnson (184), Bessemer, and Bernie Schmitt (210), Milwaukee, Wis.; tackles Curtis Marker (228), Indianapolis, Ind., and Allen Ische (228), Sarnia, Canada; guards Pat Stump (205), Lansing, and Jim Decker (203), Muskegon; and center Pete Pavloski (220), Wisconsin Rapids, Wis.

Brooklyn Bettor Wins $172,726

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Robert Froner, his wife of four months, his in-laws and two friends drove out to Roosevelt Raceway in a 1956 Oldsmobile Thursday night.

They could have used a Brink's Truck to get back to their Brooklyn home.

Froner, a 22-year-old architectural draftsman who was trying his hand at the Twin Double for only the second time, rode off with the biggest payoff in TD history — $172,726.80.

The youngster, who has been married only four months, said he had taken his father-in-law's advice betting the last two races after the 4-1 combination had left him with 42 live tickets after the first half of the twin.

NEW WORRY

CAIRO (AP)—Soccer fan Hanfi El Iraqi was sure that his favorite player Mustapha Riad was below form when his Arsenal club placed second in Egypt's league standings.

Iraqi is now sure that things will go better next season.

Only trouble is that it's a short range charm. El Iraqi must carry it to all Arsenal's games. Now he is worrying about how he will get to all 18 games next season.

Gladstone To Invade Newberry On Saturday

GLADSTONE—It's back on the road for the Gladstone Braves Saturday as Coach Don Pfotenbauer's football team travels to Newberry for a Great Lakes Conference contest that will begin at 2.

The rebuilding Braves opened their season last weekend at Norway with a 13-13 deadlock. Gladstone punched across two touchdowns in the first quarter but Norway dominated the action in the second half.

Pfotenbauer has come up with some defensive changes for use against Newberry Tom Stade. Gary England and Steve Erickson will get more action off their performances last week and Bill Potvin also will give big Ed Caswell a rest, the Gladstone mentor stated.

Offensively the Braves will be much the same as in the opener. However, Jay Knutsen will run at left half to spell Mike Gobert, with Brian Martin filling in at fullback. Don Empson also will get some work at the left half spot.

"We're looking for a tough test at Newberry and the squad is eager for action. Everybody is healthy, except for minor bruises, and we should be at full strength," Pfotenbauer stated.

Here's how the Braves will line up on offense:

Dick Anderson and Rick Ebbeson will be at ends, Dick Balding and Jim Carlson at tackles, Ed Caswell and Dick Roman at guards, Bruce Heslip at center, Mark Goodman at quarterback, Bruce Hardwick and Gobert at halfbacks and Knutsen at fullback.

Newberry, coached this fall by Ken Haggart, kicked off the 1964 campaign with a 14-0 decision over Marquette Baraga, a newcomer to Upper Peninsula prep football ranks.

Scoring the touchdowns were halfback Larry Erkantello on a short plunge and end Danny Watson on a 14 yard pass from quarterback Neil Maki. The three players figuring in the touchdowns are among 13 lettermen back from last year's squad which compiled a 3-5 season record.

Other veterans on the Newberry team include Alan Bitley, Alvin Dalgleis, Alan Pike, Pete Miller, Don Weirteila, Jim McCutcheon, Bill Fyvie, Bob Shimmings and Bob Danielson. Pike and Weirteila were credited with outstanding defensive performances last week.

Garden Latest U.P. School To Offer Football

GARDEN—Making an appearance on the Upper Peninsula prep football scene for the first time this season, on a limited basis, will be the Jets of Garden High School.

Coach Dave Pelletier's gridders will play a four game schedule, all away, against two junior varsity teams and two varsity outfits.

The Jets opened practice this week in preparation for their season opener Sept. 25 against the Jayvees at Stephenson.

Working out with the squad are 31 candidates:

Saxon and Brent Rochefort, sophomores Terry Anderson, Dennis Murphy, Randy Peterson, David Farley, Rod Lucas, Bob LeBresh and John Watchorn and freshmen Dale Thill, James Dalgord, Tom Spaulding, John Gauthier, Craig Gierke and Ivan Nedea.

Assisting in the coaching department are Dave Harju, superintendent, and LaVerne Notbold, principal.

The Garden schedule:

Sept. 25—Stephenson J. V. there
Oct. 3—Holy Name J. V. there
Oct. 17—Brimley Varsity there
Oct. 24—Engadine Varsity there

Karras Is High On Lion Chances

PALTO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—How does Alex Karras, back after a one-year suspension, size up the 1964 Detroit Lions' championship chances?

"Don't pick against us," Karras said Thursday as the Lions practiced on the Stanford University campus. "This is the best Detroit team I've been with since coming into pro ball in 1958."

Karras said the current Lions squad is better than the near-championship unit of 1962, "better defensively, better offensively, better in personnel and a lot hungrier."

"Our offensive line has two more years experience under its belt and J.D. Smith is going to help this team. Our running and passing game has improved a lot," Karras added.

The Lions have been holding daily drills here in preparation for Sunday's season opener against the 49ers at San Francisco.

Wolverines Try Aerial Attack

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan Wolverines went to work on their aerial attack Thursday, with senior Bob Timberlake and sophomore Rick Volk doing most of the passing.

Coach Bump Elliott also drilled his squad on punt returns and field goal kicking, with the season opener against Air Force only two weeks away.

Right guard Jerry Mader returned to action following an injury, but left halfback Jack Clancy remained in the hospital with a back injury.

Wolverine trainer Jim Hunt said sophomore quarterback Dick Vidmet will be out of action for at least eight weeks. Vidmet suffered a broken leg two weeks ago.

Changes Coming In World Series

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1964 World Series will be unique in at least one respect, and possibly in two.

There will be no travel day if only Eastern or only Midwestern teams are involved, breaking the pattern of recent years, and refuting, says Commissioner Ford Frick, the contention that the travel day was inserted in the Series program just to assure a Sunday television game.

Thus, if the Series is between the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League, and the Baltimore Orioles or New York Yankees of the American League, the Series will start Wednesday, Oct. 7, in the Phillies' park for two games, and move immediately to the American League park for the next three games.

If one team were to win four straight in the best four-out-of-seven Series could end on Saturday. If the Series is between the Chicago White Sox and the Cincinnati Reds or St. Louis Cardinals there also will be no open day.

Representatives of the three closely bunched American League teams — White Sox, Yankees, and Orioles — met in Frick's office Thursday with the four National League contenders, the front-running Phillies, plus the Reds, Cardinals, and San Francisco Giants.

These facts were fixed: The Series will open Oct. 7 in the National League park for the first two games, followed by three in the American League park, then two more if needed in the National League park.

Ticket prices will be $12 per game for box seats, $8 for reserved, $4 for unreserved and standing room, and $2 for bleachers, in all cases tax included; all games start at 1 p.m., local time; there would be a travel day between changes except in the situations listed.

The second way this Series could be unique is this:

The American League race is so close there could even be a three-way tie for first. In that case there would be a round-robin elimination, teams dropping out after losing two games.

This could run six days. Even if this could be started on Monday, Oct. 5, the day after the regular season closes, and there were no weather delays, it could run through Oct

State College Teams Are Set

By The Associated Press
Four Michigan teams swing into action Saturday night to officially open the state's collegiate football season.

The light schedule has two games in the state with the other two clubs opening on foreign fields.

Wisconsin State meets Central Michigan at Saginaw in the annual Red Feather Charities game, while Michigan Tech plays host to Superior State of Wisconsin.

Northern Michigan journeys to State College of Iowa and Hillsdale moves south of the border to meet Findlay, Ohio in the others.

Central Michigan will be out to break a four-game losing streak in Red Feather play when it takes on Wisconsin State. The visitors were 6-3 last year and have not had a losing season in the last 12 years.

CMU stands 5-6 in the Red Feather series but has not won since edging Hillsdale 19-13 in 1958. The Chippewas did not appear in the 1960 game.

Bill Lucier, the Associated Press' Small College Coach of the year in 1963, appears to have another winner this season.

But Frosty Ferzacca of Northern Michigan has a job on his hands with only 13 lettermen on his squad of 50. Thirty of the team members are freshmen.

Shift McGregor To Left Wing

DETROIT (AP)—Bruce MacGregor, a three-year National Hockey League veteran, was shifted to left wing Thursday as Detroit Red Wings Manager Coach Sid Abel attempted to solve his problem at that position.

MacGregor, 23, worked out Thursday on a line with Norm Ullman and Floyd Smith.

"Bruce told me he's happy to play anywhere on the team," Abel said. "He's young and aggressive enough to be able to make the switch."

Abel added, however, that it was too early to tell whether MacGregor would stay on the left side or who would be next to be tried out there.

Other left wings who worked out Thursday were Ron Murphy, Glen Sather and Yves Locas, a 40-goal scorer last year with the Red Wings' farm club at Pittsburgh.

Musial Muses

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Stan Musial may be retired from baseball, but he still has plenty of interest in the National League pennant race which he sums up as one of the closest ever.

"During the years when we (Cardinals) won several pennants—and in the days when the Brooklyn Dodgers dominated the league, the team that won the pennant had to fight of one or two other clubs. But now, the team that wins the National League pennant, has to battle six, seven or eight tough clubs all season long."

Bombings Follow Uruguay's Break With Red Cuba

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Terrorists tossed fire bombs today at the home of the president and two members of the ruling government council as violence continued for a third day following Uruguay's diplomatic break with Cuba.

One of the bombs slightly damaged the home of Alfred Puig Spangenberg, a council member, but there were no casualties. The other bombs exploded at the residence of President Luis Giannattasio and council member Oscar Gestido.

The minister of interior, chief of police and other high officials conferred shortly after the latest incidents to discuss emergency measures to end the disorders by pro-Castro groups in the capital.

Police intensified their patrols in Montevideo.

Parade Ready For Saturday

Everything's all set to roll at 2 p.m. Saturday in the big Logging Congress parade on Stephenson Ave. and Ludington St., and the public is invited to turn out for the big show, but urged to note the ban on parking on Ludington from 1 p.m. until after the show.

Don Trotter of the parade committee of the Logging Congress says his co-chairman, Claude Tobin, is a bit worried about the event because last year Tobin declared that the Escanaba Centennial Parade would be the longest ever held in Escanaba and as of today he expects the loggers to top it with their march on Saturday afternoon.

The parade will start at the "Y" on Stephenson at 2 p.m. and move to the end of Ludington St., where its mechanical units will be on display for a half hour to facilitate movement of traffic from side streets before they attempt to return to the Fair Grounds or to their home cities. Some of the 23 bands and drum corps will go on to the Eskymo-Hematite football game, which won't start until 3 p.m. in order to let the Eskymo Band participate in the Logging Congress parade.

The judges of the marching units will be Capt. Kent McDaniel and Lieut. Peter Watts of K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base. The reviewing stand will be at Ludington and 10th Sts.

Besides the bands and drum corps, the Silver Spurs riders and many other attractions, there will be mobile unit entries by 39 exhibitors at Logging Congress, plus units by nine indoor exhibitors. The units will range from tiny powersaw-powered karts to huge timber loaders and haulers that could put logs through third story windows on Ludington St.

Tobin and Trotter said the Pettibone-Michigan Corp. machines would follow the L'Anse Golden Eagles, the Birds Eye Veneer Co. and Harnischfeger Corp. units would follow the Escanaba Area High School Band; the Bark River Culvert & Equipment Co. units will follow the Holy Name High School Band and the Gagner Automotive & Machine Inc., and Escanaba Machine Co. units will follow the Escanaba City Band.

Seven Perish As Cars Collide

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—Seven persons, including three young sisters and their brother, were killed late Thursday when two cars collided on a rain-slicked road 10 miles southeast of here.

State police said one of the autos, containing six persons, skidded in front of the other car on Coleman Rd. in southwestern Midland County. No one survived the crash.

The dead included: Therie Shaeffer, 17, of rural Shepherd; her sisters, Linda, 15, and Terry, 2, and their 16-year-old brother, James; Louis Davis, 16, also of rural Shepherd; David Mallay, 18, of near Winn, and James Leonard, 38, of near Shepherd.

Leonard, driving alone, was en route home from his chemical factory job at St. Louis. Police said the youths were going to a store in the hamlet of Pleasant Valley.

State troopers said the youths car, driving by Mallay, crossed into Leonard's northbound lane as rain fell in the area. It was not immediately determined whether Mallay's car suffered a tire blowout or whether he lost control after hitting a bump on the road, police said.

The accident occurred about five miles south of M 20.

Roberts replied, "Do I know where it is? Judge, I was born right next door at 186 Gillett St."

"It's a small world, isn't it," added Judge Kramer as he fined Roberts $20 and costs. He was arrested by state police on M 35 in Ingallston township Sunday.

Man Questioned In Assault Case

MANISTIQUE — Larry A. Schnurer, 26, of Manistique, is being held by State Police on an open charge involving assault of a patient in Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, breaking and entering and reckless driving.

According to State Police, Schnurer entered the hospital Thursday night and walked into a patient's room. The patient was Patricia Jenerou, 17, of Manistique, and according to reports he put his hand over her mouth and said, "If you scream, I'll kill you."

When he put his other hand on her throat, she screamed and he fled, Karin Russe, 24, a licensed practical nurse on duty, told officers she saw Schnurer run from the room into an adjoining room at about 10:50 p.m. He went out the hospital window.

Police said that Miss Jenerou suffered a slight case of shock but apparently was not injured. In his flight from the hospital, Schnurer dropped his wallet on the floor. Identification in the wallet led to his arrest. Officers said a short time later Schnurer was traveling at

According to the report she took her children upstairs and when her son Jim, 16, came home about 10 p.m. she told him of the incident and he went downstairs to check. He found the man in the kitchen. Police indicate they believe the man was Schnurer.

State Police said they talked with Schnurer this morning and he told them he had been laid off for the weekend at Baraga where he had been employed by George Hocking Construction Co.

According to State Police, he said he had had a few drinks enroute home to his wife and child who live at Indian Lake. He told them that when he arrived in Manistique he stopped in a bar and had some more drinks.

A conference is scheduled later today with Schoolcraft County Prosecuting Attorney W. J. Sheehan to determine formal charges against Schnurer.

Traffic court summonses have been issued by Escanaba police to Ann Marie Plourde, 311 S. 10th St., speeding and no operator's license; Richard D. Anderson, Wells, defective tail light; and to Donald Nault, 1420 2nd Ave. N., no operator's license on person.

Escanaba police are investigating the breaking and entering of the Northwest Fruit Co. warehouse sometime last night. Entrance was made through a skylight, apparently by juveniles, and it is believed some candy is missing.

Calvin Bentley Dies In Florida

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Former Owosso, Mich., industrialist Calvin P. Bentley died Thursday at his winter home on an island in nearby Biscayne Bay.

The 81-year-old millionaire had been confined to his Florida home for two years because of failing health. He was the uncle of former Republican Congressman Alvin Bentley of Owosso.

Calvin Bentley, a native of Linden, Mich., was a lifetime resident of the state. He attended Orchard Lake Academy and the University of Michigan before launching a business career.

Before his retirement, he had served as board chairman of the Mitchell-Bentley Corp. of Owosso, which then manufactured auto trim and bodies for station wagons.

He also served as board chairman of the Owosso Savings Bank and was a director of the Detroit Bank and Trust Co., the Wabash Railroad, Cunningham's Drugs, the Ann Arbor Railroad and the Murray Corp. of America.

Bentley's father figured prominently in the founding of General Motors Corp., when he extended financial backing to William C. Durant, who organized the firm.

Calvin Bentley was named to the State Liquor Control Committee by then-Gov. William C. Comstock in 1933.

Bentley is survived by his widow, Irma; three daughters, six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.
